Antioch nurse takes to Russia with love

by MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

In the words of Mikhail Gorbachev, 'the key to international peace is the exchange of information.' A group of nurses administered to this premise when they accepted the invitation of the Soviet Minister of Health Yevgenil I. Chazov to share their specialized knowledge with their Russian counterparts.

Antioch resident Mary Ann Doyle, Asst. Vice President of Oncology at American International Hospital, Zion, joined four of her comrades for the three-week Soviet sojourn.

"I really felt honored to be one of the five that was selected to go," said Doyle.

Chazov's invitation was inspired by a letter from nurse Linda Smith, editor of Advancing Clinical Care. Smith had been so moved by Gorbachev's sentiment that she sought to organize a "collaborative exchange of nursing information" in the spirit of glasnost and international peace.

Together with Smith, the group was gathered to represent a cross-section of specialties en route to "perestroika", the Soviet ideal to encourage more independent enterprise in a free market.

Doyle was delegated for her training in oncology. She was joined by Becky Reach, Director of Nursing at Sinclair College, Dayton, Ohio, and a specialist in curriculum development in education; Michael Bratton, Clinical Manager of the Rehabilitation Dept. at St. Mary's Hospital, Racine, Wis., and a specialist in rehabilitation; and Fran Petrick, Director of Nursing at Ridgewood Nursing Home, Racine, and a specialist in gerontology.

On Dec. 17, the group of consultants embarked on their trip with feelings of excitement, anxiety and stress and the prospect of spending the holidays away from their families amid a different culture.

Their first taste of the culture involved a list of "no no's" provided by the consulate. Photographing of any military personnel and any forms of transportation were strictly forbidden.

"We thought for sure we were going to end up in Siberia," said Doyle of Smith's attempt to shoot a photograph near the customs office at the Moscow Airport.

However, the group's accommodations proved to be infinitely more genteel. A fine hotel on the outskirts of Moscow made a comfortable home base. Evening entertainment featured fine dining and the creme of Moscow entertainment, including the renowned Moscow ballet and the Moscow Circus.

According to Doyle, the nightlife as well as the business at hand, were all part of a very precise itinerary.

"They kept us very, very busy," she said.

The daytime agenda was packed with tours of hospitals and meetings before top Soviet officials, including the Soviet Parliament. With the hectic pace came the monumental responsibility of assessing and making recommendations on the medical environment before the Soviet political elite.

"That was probably the most stressful," said Doyle, "we knew that these were people who were in power in the Soviet Union and we would play a part in those changes. That was an overwhelming sense of responsibility."

The need for change was apparent, said Doyle, due to the nation's lack of medical technology and sophistication and its se-

Miller's request for more officers on hold

by MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch Police Chief Chuck Miller's request for two additional officers received a cool response from the Antioch Village Board of Trustees, Feb. 25. The issue was left unresolved with further review contingent upon the proposed budget, currently being prepared by village administrator Tim Wells.

Miller referred to a report which he had prepared showing an increase in "down time" when officers are not available for patrol. He attributed this increase to corresponding increases in population and crime. His conclusion was based on a comparison of statistics from 1980 and 1989.

He further stated the urgency of approving the two new positions to allow time for training of the new recruits.

"It takes a long time to get a man through the schooling and through the training before we can get him on the road," he said.

However, the validity of Miller's request was questioned by Mayor Robert Wilton and trustees Ed Koziorowski and Larry Hansen.

"I look at this document, this is a one page document" Wilton said, "I see no research in this at all."

Koziorowski countered the request with a report detailing the staffing of police departments in comparably populated areas. The report indicated that the Antioch Police Dept., with staff of 14 officers and 1 police chief, compared equally or more favorably to the departments in Fox Lake, Wauconda, Grayslake, and Lake Geneva.

Trustee Marilyn Shineflug criticized

Koziorowski's report for the selection of villages, omission of others, and for failure to consider differing job descriptions within various departments.

Although, conceding the validity of Miller's points for hiring the officers, trustee Donald Amundsen suggested that the issue be 'melded' into the budget process, to determine the economic feasibility of the option.

"I really do think that whether we do add another patrolman or not will have to be looked at when we look at the budget," he said.

Loon Lakes group seeks input, support

The Loon Lakes Management Association is calling out to lake area resident for input and involvement in the community's efforts to carry out its lake management plans. A community-run non-profit organization, the association is known for its past efforts to preserve and maintain the quality of Loon Lakes.

"Even though we are a voluntary participation group, we still aggressively recruit interested residents," said president John Bambule.

"Under the new framework of Special Service Area 8, the community will decide what its long-term lake management plans will be," he added, "I want everyone who wants to be involved to have a means to do so."

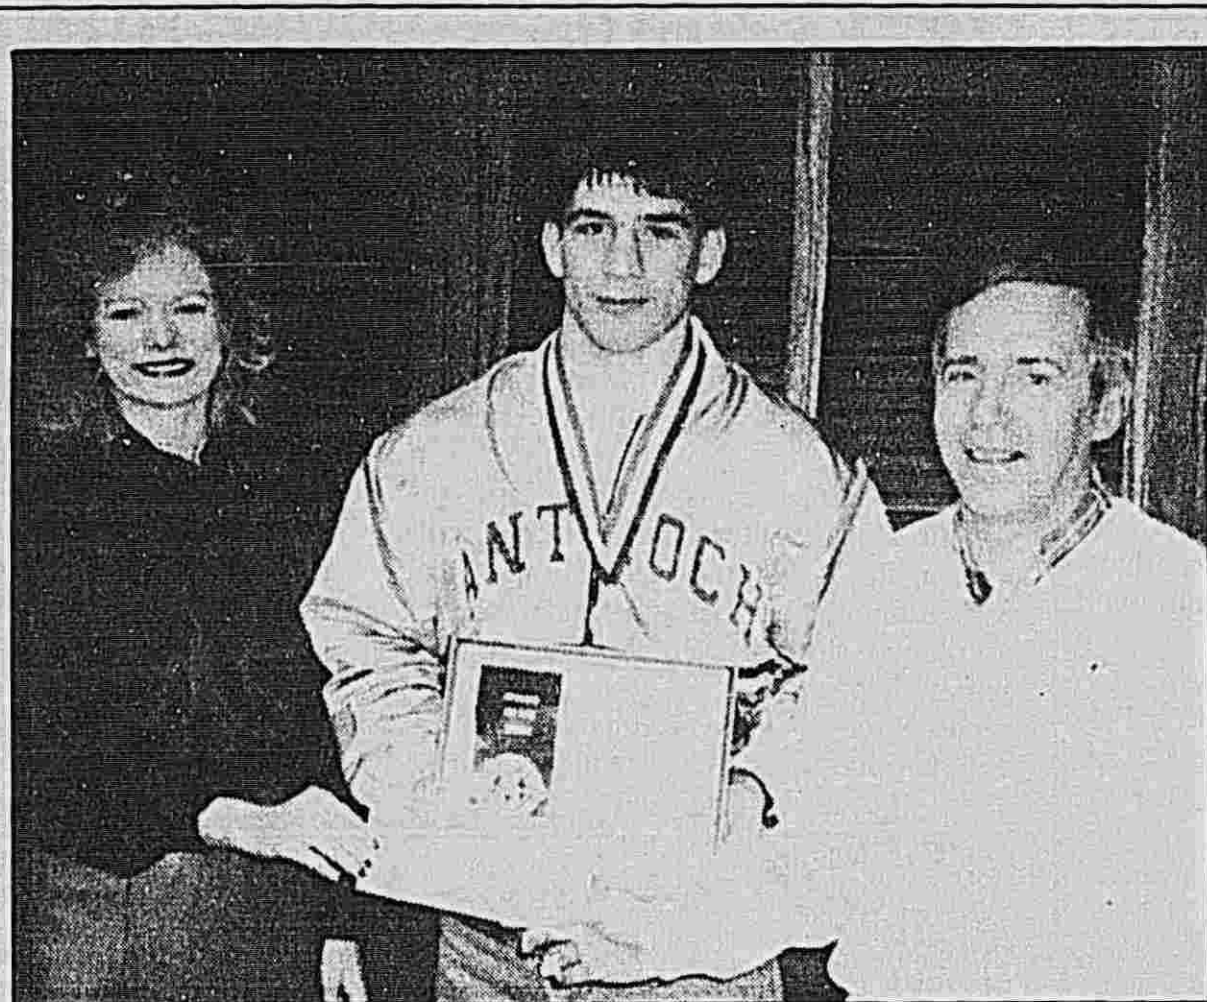

The association is taking steps to revise the by-laws to include any subdivisions or residential areas not presently represented on the board.

To promote public education, a series of seminars is being planned to address environmental problems and solutions. Through the Special Service Area 8 agreement, the Lake County Lake Management Unit will provide the association with the technical skills and advice to create and carry out the decision the made by the community.

All area 8 residents (bordered in part by Grimm Road, Rte. 173 and Beach Grove Road on the north; Prairie Ave. on the west; Grass Lake Road on the south; and Deep Lake Road on the east) desiring information on the association should call or write, P.O. Box 50, Antioch, Ill., 60002; (708) 395-4915 or 395-8189.

Pre-Schoolers prove future in good hands

Can you believe it

The Camp Crayon staff is constantly being amazed by the little ones. During circle time, Miss Marie decided to teach the children about Abraham Lincoln. She brought out a silhouette of Honest Abe's head, held it up, and asked if anyone knew who this was. Little Katrina Brooke quickly raised her hand and said "that's Abraham Lincoln". Naturally we were pleasantly surprised that this little one recognized and named our 16th president from a mere silhouette likeness. Miss Marie proceeded to read a story about Lincoln, passed around a penny with Abe stamped on it, and also showed the little ones a five dollar bill featuring Lincoln in the bill's center. After the discussion, we asked the question does anyone know who the president of the United States is at the present time? Little Amanda Tomasello raised her hand and said "Bush is the president and he sent Michael to fight. Michael is her neighbor who is in the Gulf helping to defend our country. Can you believe it, three and four year olds knowing the answers to such adult questions? I'd say our future is in good hands when these little ones grow up and take their places in society.

were shortage of nurses.

"They have a critical, critical nursing shortage," said Doyle, "yet, they have an abundance of physicians."

This imbalance is a result of a very different educational system than that of American medicine. Prospective nurses enter into a nursing program in the eighth or ninth grade. Upon graduation from the American equivalent of high school, the student is vested as a full-fledged nurse.

Doyle told of a 19-year old nurse whom she had met, who was putting her three years of nursing experience to work as the head nurse of a hospital pediatric unit.

"They are functioning under a severe disadvantage," she added, "they don't have the education or the technology. They're still sterilizing needles (by hand)."

For doctors, medical training begins directly after high school. The four-year program requires no residency upon its conclusion. Hence, the preponderance of physicians is evidenced not only with their presence on the hospital staffs but also hotels and theaters. In Russia, there is always a doctor in the house.

Patient care and hospitalization philosophy is reflective of the caliber of training and the demands of life in a Communist society. For example, Doyle says that surgical procedures that would be routine by American standards require much longer hospital stays in the Soviet Union. In the U.S., an appendectomy would result in a 4 to 5 day hospital stay. In the USSR, patients are typically confined for two weeks.

However, for Soviet citizens, time in the hospital does not mean time away from the job and the paycheck and may mean a break from the hardships of their humble lifestyles.

"The physical demands are different," said Doyle.

They are paid whether they work or not. While hospitalized they are assured to be fed without the hassle of waiting in lines, lines and more lines. According to Doyle, basic grocery shopping may require several hours of waiting.

Bred into their lifestyle full of tribulations, devoid of a drive to succeed and indoctrinated on the concept of predestination, Doyle saw a very negative, fatalistic outlook among the Soviets. Symptomatic of this outlook was a staggering consumption of alcohol and cigarettes without regard for the health risks.

"It was like living life through a play," she said, "getting through your lines and that's the end of it."

This laissez-faire attitude further translated into a lack of communication and a slight regard for timing and schedules. In addition to often lengthy waits for their guide, Doyle reported that her group was often scheduled to give presentations without being notified.

Despite, the breach in communication, the nurses learned different ways to relate among their hosts. On their trip to Leningrad, the group was anxious about making connections with their guide, who had directed them only to meet him at the train station.

Doyle said the hustle and bustle of the crowded train station was conspicuously peaceful. It was under these circumstances that the guide was able to easily decipher the Americans laughter, a sound uncharacteristic of the stoic society.

"The one thing that the Soviets noticed about us was that we were not somber and serious all the time, but professional in professional situations," she said, "that was a different concept for them to understand."

Another concept that was different was Christmas. With some good-old American ingenuity and a make-shift Christmas tree the travelers did manage to stow away some Christmas cheer in a country without it. The Soviets save their revelry for New Year's Eve.

'We knew that these were people who were in power in the Soviet Union and we would play a part in changes.'— Nurse Mary Ann Doyle.

Overall, Doyle said she returned from her trip with a positive feeling about the Soviet people. And, as they were leaving, one of their guides bid them adieu with "I love Americans."

Now Geary can look back, but he talks about future

by BILL SCHROEDER
Lakeland Newspapers

As a college student during World War II, Norm Geary skipped classes one day to campaign for his roommate's father, a popular and prominent downstate politician who was running for reelection.

Geary, a fixture in Lake County politics for more than a quarter century, remembers the experience well.

"He was a sheriff. He seemed to know everyone in town. He was respected. I like my roommate's dad. He gave me a definition of a politician I never forgot," recalled Geary, who will be honored at a public salute Saturday night, March 2, at Brae Loch Golf Course, Rte. 45.

"The sheriff told me that a politician was a person who was welcome in every home in town, from the poorest citizen to the wealthiest. I liked that," mused Geary, as he talked to this reporter about his experiences as a Lake County political leader who lost as many battles as he won, but a public figure who never shied away from a fight.

That college experience hooked Geary on politics. Military service and starting a board who share his views on controlled growth and holding down skyrocketing taxes.

It's ironic that this spring's Grayslake village election is a micro version of the battle that Geary waged the last decade on the County Board--keeping unbridled growth in check to keep taxation down to an acceptable level.

Typically, Geary minces no words about what's going on in his hometown where more than 3,000 homes have been built or will be built in a three-year period.

"Mayor Marvin Smith's administration is a disaster. Wait until the tax bills come out. Unfortunately, people won't know what their taxes are until after the election," Geary observed ominously.

The former county chairman, who chose not to seek reelection to the County Board in 1990, shakes his head in wonderment over what's happening now in county government, where the reorganized board and new leadership appears bent on dismantling open space purchase designations put together by Geary and his colleagues during the 1980's when open space was a popular cause.

"Why are they fighting the Forest Preserve District designations? For what? More homes? Geary asks incredulously.

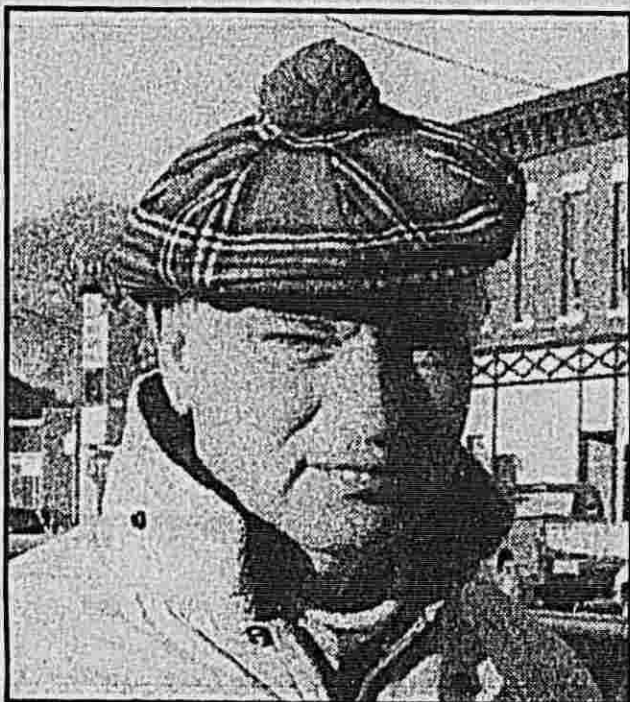

Asked to describe the legacy of 33 years in the public eye--more often than not the eye of a hurricane--Norm responded with one word, "reformer." He expanded on his answer with a pet theory about public service.

"When you're elected to public office you can basically go one of two ways--serving the public interest or serving special interests. It's a philosophy of government," Geary says he always chose the former when sizing up issues and ultimately paid the price for refusing to "go along" or curry favor with power groups.

"I'm a good lesson of what happens to politicians who won't go along with the trend for growth and development," Geary remarked. He attributes his defeat for reelection as supervisor of Avon Township in 1989 as "getting ganged up" on by developers and land speculators who outspent his team three to one. The defeat paved the way for his retirement.

To illustrate how high the stakes are in Lake County for development, Geary pointed out that Lexington Homes, a major Chicago area home builder, has spent over $100 million in land acquisition in central Lake County the past several years. And Lexington is only one of the players in the race for total urbanization of Lake County.

With characteristic intensity, Geary

family with his high school sweetheart, Marilyn Hook, delayed his entrance into public service. But once he started, the brainy investment counselor has never stopped fighting for what he believes is right or standing up for like-minded citizens in a life-long quest for what he regards as the cause for responsible government.

Now that he's out of office and devoting full-time to his investment counseling business, the long-time political leader keeps in touch with political affairs--and keeps battling.

Right now Geary is working to get three trustees elected to the Grayslake village underscored one of his favorite themes of the growth cycle that results in need for more public services and new schools. "People think they are paying for education, but in reality they are paying for development. They either don't know that or they refuse to recognize it."

Geary admitted that the upward spiral of taxes, cost of government and disappearance of open space is disappointing. "But I'm not bitter," he insists.

The embattled political pro looks back with pride on accomplishments. "I'm considered being anti-growth, but I helped put in place the county system of sewer networks that opened up building. I was part of the purchase of Lakewood Forest Preserve Brae Loch, and Picket Fence Farm.

"In the township I built a new center with federal funds; not a cent of taxpayers' money. I established Midlakes Health Clinic operated by the county."

The 1989 defeat for supervisor hurt him the most of the losses suffered over the years. "I completely underestimated the forces of development money," he explained.

Geary, 67, chuckled. "My wife says that defeat saved my life. Maybe so." Bypass surgery unquestionably added years to his life. He took off unnecessary pounds and reorganized his lifestyle. Norm said he didn't realize the stress of public office until leaving the township.

"I was talking to an irate taxpayer one day and didn't realize I was having a heart attack," he recalled matter-of-factly.

Norm mixes anecdotes and philosophy easily. Many of his adversaries have gone to the big political arena in the sky. Recalling how he once supported long-time foe Robert Depke for county chairman, Norm noted simply, "Bob and I have different philosophies" to explain why they often were at odds.

Still ensnared in legalities over the system of how he was compensated as supervisor, Norm offered an explanation of why lawsuits haven't been dropped now that he's out of office. "The town board is being advised by Atty. Rudy Magna Jr. I once side-tracked Rudy for appointment as special state's attorney. Rudy's just getting even."

Geary recalled how he encouraged Mike Graham of Libertyville to enter politics to unseat entrenched Guy Grinnell, now in his 90's and living in retirement in Kankakee. Norm had clashed with Grinnell who he regarded as an exponent of the "good old boy" school of politics and a practitioner of "back scratching" which Geary finds so repugnant. Geary and Graham stood together through many a battle.

The Sage of Grayslake always went out of his way to encourage people to get involved in politics in the belief that he couldn't do his job without "good people" with him. In a single breath, he reeled off nearly a dozen well known political leaders who entered politics with his encouragement.

Norm smiles warmly as he recalled the advice of his brother, Del, a long-time business associate and campaign supporter. "Del always told me that human nature can't be changed. Maybe that's what I was always trying to do."

Geary repeated his favorite political saying, a quote from Winston Churchill: "Democracy is the worst form of government known to man--except all others."

Within that frame of reference, Norm feels he has accomplished what he set out to do, represent the best interests of individual citizens, promote the two-party system, fight waste and corruption in government, and help provide services people need to live better.

Regarding friends and foes alike, Geary concluded, "I like to think I was respected."

10K benefits special olympics

Saint Therese Medical Center in Waukegan has joined the Lake County Races as the official 1991 10K Race Sponsor. The races, scheduled for Sunday, April 28, 1991, are anticipated to attract more than 4000 people.

Six events make up Lake County Races' 1991 schedule, including the Moore Marathon, Half-Marathon, Saint Therese Medical Center 10K Race, First Midwest Bank Marathon Relays, a 10K Race Walk and a 3.5 mile Fitness Walk and Decker-Linn and Associates Law Office's Special Olympic Relays.

The events, designed to cover Lake County, reach as far north as Zion and as far south as Highland Park. The races feature a point-to-point scenic course with a train ride from start to finish. Proceeds from the event benefits Glenkirk and Northeastern Illinois Special Olympics.

For more information about the races, or for an application, call Gretchen Wiesenberg at (708)317-1060.

Curb levy power

Gov. Jim Edgar hears the pleas of homeowners for property-tax relief. His proposal to guarantee that property tax bills will not increase more than the rate of inflation makes a good deal of sense.

Elected officials of local taxing bodies, particularly schools and park districts, have paid scant attention to the pleading on the part of taxpayers for consideration. In our area of wildly escalating land values, many officials blithely accept additional income produced by increased valuations and then tack on higher levies. That's the old double whammy!

Clearly, it's time for the state to invoke some limitations. That's why the governor's proposal to prevent local taxing bodies from increasing levies by more than five percent, or the rate of inflation, whichever is less, is a proposal whose time has come. School officials, in the main, don't have any self control for their tax appetite. Handcuffs have to be put on them.

Time to face reality

There's a common thread in the operation of boards of education for public schools these days. Far too many members, well intentioned as they might be, simply are not in touch with reality. They either are carried away with their own self importance, susceptible to the blandishments of manipulative administrators or totally lacking in the knowledge and expertise needed to make hard decisions for management of the biggest business in town---the local school system.

That about sums up the reason why voters in Libertyville High School Dist. Tuesday dealt an ignominious defeat to a school expansion referendum. Disregard the fact that future students are in the "pipeline" and likely will zoom enrollment from 2,100 to 3,200. The facts are that the proposition was loaded with fat and burdened with side issues like abandonment of the freshman building and whether Vernon Hills should build its own high school. Voters, many of them angry about skyrocketing taxes, sensed that their elected representatives were in disarray so they went for the kill, a ringing 1,000 vote defeat.

A great many Libertyville voters seemed to be fed up with platitudes about "maintaining educational quality" and "protecting the return on their tax investment." What they saw was a school board weighted down with confusion and unreality. Under the circumstances, a no vote was a matter of self defense. Not even the support of a widely publicized tax watchdog group could save the muddled issue.

With more kids on the way, what's next for the district? As Supt. Donald Gossett put it, "It's back to the drawing board." That should be a foregone conclusion. At the same time, voters ought to take a second look at their board representatives and elect ones capable of making sensible, clear decisions for the real world.

Solving bitter battle

Antioch is involved in an ugly mess over who has authority to control the police department that has divided friends and neighbors and cast a pall over the community.

Mayor Robert Wilton clearly has statutory authority on his side, but that hasn't stopped Police Chief Charles "Chuck" Miller and his supporters from challenging the mayor and hurling lawsuits in all directions in an effort to sustain their point of view.

To be sure, the long-standing battle between Mayor Wilton and Chief Miller has taken on the coloration of a civil war. And if differences aren't settled soon, the struggle could well last as long as America's historic Civil War.

Fortunately, there is a bit of light at the end of the tunnel that is provided in our municipal electoral process, the April 2 election. Antioch electors have a chance to change some of the players. The newly reorganized board should have as its first order of business putting an end to the Wilton-Miller fight. Whatever the outcome, village election results should provide the direction for solving the bitter battle.

Sorry for Pat Connors

Editor:

This is in response to Patrick Connors' berating wetlands and environmentalists. His logic is similar to that of our great environmental President Reagan who proclaimed that trees add more to the greenhouse effect than factories.

Wetlands and trees are the only reason that you, I and Patrick Connors are breathing. While wetlands contribute a small amount of natural gas, they do not make the greenhouse effect. That is made by cars, planes and industries that spew out carbon, nitrogen and sulfur dioxide by the tons. And it is made by a federal administration that is more determined than ever to keep us reliant on fossil fuels.

Contrary to Mr. Connors' contention, the reason why mosquito abatement programs cost so much is because the natural predators of mosquitos that also live in wetlands have been destroyed and paved over by development.

Destroying wetlands only leads to a rapid downward spiral of destruction for both people and the environment.

I feel sorry for people who have such an intense, paranoid loathing of nature as Mr. Connors. But what should anyone expect from someone who is a mouthpiece to Jack Martin who has made a political career out of devastating the environment of Lake County?

Marine's words of 21 years ago ring true today

by BILL SCHROEDER

Robert Lasco is a twice-wounded veteran of service in the South Pacific with the 1st Marine Division. His son, Thomas, served with the 1st Marine Division in Vietnam. Lasco's grandson, 9, might be a Marine someday.

Now retired but operator of a Christmas tree business in season, Lasco follows war news avidly. He feels the 1st Marines will do whatever called upon and serve with distinction. Lasco and his son, operator of a tax accounting business in Antioch, take great pride in the family military heritage.

Lasco never forgot a letter his son wrote to a newspaper more than 20 years ago during the height of conflict in the Far East about anti-war sentiment at home. The former Leatherneck feels the letter is appropriate today, still expressing family sentiments about patriotism. We agree. Thomas Lasco's letter dated June 6, 1970, is as follows:

"Many of us here in Vietnam have been following the news stories about the unrest on the nation's campuses with subdued anger. It is demoralizing to read about our UNDERPRIVILEGED counterparts vandalizing campus buildings, manhandling the leaders of our educational institutions, and generally making "asses" of themselves.

"It is painful to the thousands of less pampered 'students' here, who have had to take their lessons from instructors in black pajamas and sandals, where the classrooms are muddy foxholes and hot, sweaty jungles, where the Saturday night date is maybe a hot beer and a letter from home, and where the grades are not A's, B's or C's but sudden death, crippling wounds or maybe a temporary victory--- kill them or at least causing massive hearing impairment. It is axiomatic that the more entrenched they become, the more costly and difficult will become the ground war.

There is, however, I believe a cost effective solution and it is as follows: In the arid western and southern portions of our country there exists a great resource, that to my knowledge has never in history been employed militarily. Arizona, New Mexico, California, and Texas have a surplus of slithering reptiles such as rattlesnakes and sidewinders, Florida has the coral, that cute by deadly venom generator. At the risk of incurring the wrath of the animal rights activists, I am about to propose a form of biological attack which might be described as herpetological warfare.

I think that the Pentagon should undertake a large acquisition of these and you can't take the lessons over again if you fail the test.

"We can't expect you people back in the world to be concerned. You did your share in '44 or '52 and how you're too tired to do more than mutter, 'I just don't know what this world is coming to.'

"Well, don't worry, people, because someday soon this war is going to end and half a million angry young men filled with dreams of home, families, education and jobs, looking toward a peaceful future, are going to descend on the 50 states. And when these men hit the campuses, I sincerely hope that someone tries to stop an ex-Marine from going to class, or that some sorry flaky fool tries to plant a Viet Cong flag beside the artificial leg of a Seabee, or spits in the scarred face of an Army medic, or tells a Navy corpsman that he is stupid or calls him a warmonger.

"I guarantee that it will only happen once!"

WATCHING BUDGET---Mayor Jim Kay of Lake Zurich has booked a room at a budget hotel when he attends a national conference on municipal affairs this spring in Washington, D.C. Last year aides in the village hall made reservations for the meeting so late that Mayor Kay had to put up at the Ritz-Carlton. Even so, the mayor was able to return about a third of his $1,500 expense allowance unused. Kay is one mayor who practices economy when he talks about reducing expenses.

critters immediately. We could probably obtain the specimens for $35 a unit and maybe as low as $5 in pesos if we purchase them from Mexico.

I would leave it to Gen. Schwartzkopf as the most effective technique to introduce thousands of these fellows into the enemies trenches. We could even follow this attack with a liberal sprinkling of large spiders and scorpions.

In as much as close cohabitation with the more venomous species is difficult or impossible the subterranean troops would be expected to surface in short order, thereby putting themselves squarely in the center of our high tech gun and bombsights and we could look forward to possibly seeing bumper stickers reading Saddam Hussein, kiss my Asp.

St. Peters claims title as defense sparks offense

A change in defense just in time for the fourth quarter helped St. Peter's basketball team earn a first-place trophy Sunday.

"We changed to a box-and-one and that took them out of their offense," St. Peter Coach Kurt Duehr said.

St. Peter downed St. Patrick's of Wadsworth 53-42 to capture the Class "B" trophy in the 37th annual girls and boys basketball tournament held at Carmel High School. The tourney is organized by the Knights of Columbus Cardinal Stritch Chapter 3674, serving Libertyville, Mundelein and Fremont Center.

In the Class "A" bracket, for schools with more than 250 enrollment, St. Joseph of Libertyville advanced to the semifinals, where they were downed by eventual champion Thomas Jefferson of Waukegan 61-39.

St. Joe of Libertyville won the sportsmanship honor while Santa Maria of Mundelein was second.

St. Peter opened up a lead in the second quarter on St. Pats, only to see the Hornets close the gap. Jason Wegener hit a three-pointer and a free throw for a 35-32 St. Peter advantage after three.

But AJ Case and Dave Smith took over from there. With the box-and-one defense doing its part on the other end, St. Peter had an 11-2 run which sealed the contest. Case had 21 points and Smith 20 for St. Peter.

Other team members were: Brad Lehner, Chris

Passarella, Brent Lubeck, Adam Haley, Tim McKinney and Art Wicklein.

Thomas Jefferson downed St. Mary of Lake Forest

45-40 in the Class "A" title game.

Bill Graham, an attorney in Libertyville, was honored with a plaque for his 25 years as chairman of the tournament.

Lakeland's COUNTY NEWS

Dear Round Lake and Antioch,

My name is Eugene Kolanowski and I'm in the U.S. Navy on the Guided Missile Cruiser, USS Biddle. The USS Biddle is based out of Norfolk, Va, and is currently supporting Operation Desert Storm.

The Biddle departed Norfolk on the 7th of August last year. We were scheduled to arrive in Norfolk from a six month deployment on the 7th of February this year. Unfortunately we didn't make it. At present time we still don't know when our return to Norfolk will come. As rumor has it, we will be here until the end, and as you can see by the dates before, we have been here since the beginning.

I am 22 years of age, and 17 of my 22 years was spent growing up in Round Lake Beach. I went to Round Lake High School, and completed my schooling with a GED in 1987. In my 17 years in Round Lake I have seen several small towns grow enormously, and now it's a small city. I'm proud to say I grew up in Round Lake.

The reason I am writing this letter is to thank the people of Round Lake and Antioch (where my parents currently live) for the support they have shown for Operation Desert Storm and support for service men and women in Operation Desert Storm. These men and women are halfway around the world. This includes myself. After being out here for only three months people began to miss their family and loved ones. At this time I myself am starting my seventh month out here. Pictures and letters are great but it's still not being at home.

There is a second reason I am writing this letter. Two years ago my parents moved to Antioch and I lost touch with friends and loved ones. I want to say I haven't forgotten, I just don't have time enough to write. Please keep writing, I still have every letter sent to me.

I also would like to thank Mrs. Narait at Round Lake High School and her class. They have kept me up dated on what's going on in Round Lake.

I want to thank three people for support that no one else could give me. Thanks mom, dad and brother, Jamie.

With Love and Appreciation

Nature's Water Ltd. goes with the flow

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

It's such a simple molecule, this two atoms of hydrogen combined with one atom of oxygen — the earth's nurturing lifeblood.

But it's not so elementary, my dear consumer, when your water is laced with heavy amounts of iron and sulfur.

That's when Al Shemluck and Brad Barkley — with their full line of Rainsoft® Water Conditioning Company equipment — will dive in to the rescue.

Shemluck is the president of Nature's Water Ltd. at 108 W. State Rd. (Rte. 176) in Island Lake. Barkley is Shemluck's service manager and top gun.

Shemluck, who took over the enterprise in 1989, is unbridled in his assessment of Rainsoft products.

"I can't tell you how it feels in your heart to know you're selling the finest equipment out there — this is the finest equipment," Shemluck said.

What Nature's Water Ltd. offers is a "complete line of water-treatment systems for drinking water and iron and sulfur removal," Shemluck said. "That's just about anything anyone needs in this area."

That area includes all of Lake and McHenry counties and northern Cook County. Although Nature's Water Ltd. has been concentrating on residential customers, "commercial-industrial is becoming a bigger part of our business," Shemluck said.

The company just finished installing equipment at Nieman Marcus in Northbrook, and Shemluck is currently on the home-exposition circuit, extolling the benefits of his company and Rainsoft products.

Barkley said much of the water in the area contains high levels of iron and sulfur. But that's no problem "as long as you have the right equipment," he said.

If you don't have the right equipment, several things can happen. Iron will stain white clothing, kitchen and bathroom fixtures and appliances. Calcium, lime and iron will damage your water heater, dishwasher and washing machine. All of the above will combine to build a deposit within your pipes — just like cholesterol in the arteries.

"Hard" water can be tough to swallow.

And then, there's Shemluck's story about the woman whose blonde hair had developed an unwanted reddish tint because of the iron in her water.

At the heart of the Rainsoft solution is a perpetual, self-cleaning, two-container system that "regenerates" the resin used to remove unwanted chemicals and minerals from the water.

Iron, sulfur, lime, calcium and other substances are removed as the water travels through the resin in one container. But just like a magnet picking up metal shavings, the resin will eventually become saturated and lose power.

That's when the regenerating sodium system kicks in from the other tank. Just enough sodium is enlisted by the system to cleanse the resin. It's an ion exchange — swapping a hard mineral for a soft mineral.

Shemluck said many people are laboring under a misconception: "The water does not go through the salt. The salt is only for the regeneration of the system."

The regeneration within a Rainsoft system can be triggered by a timer or by a sophisticated computer control called the Q2 Valve.

Only enough sodium is drawn into the system at the appropriate times to charge the system.

"We calculate the number of people in the household and the type of water hardness," Barkley said.

"If we get the right information, we can decide which unit will serve them for a long time," Shemluck said.

A "long time" for Rainsoft equipment means a "lifetime warranty, basically, on all units," Shemluck explained.

"We just had guy who had a seven-year-old salt tank," Shemluck offered. "He dropped a block of salt into it and broke it. We just gave him another salt tank."

Although Shemluck took over Nature's Water Ltd. just a couple of years ago, the Rainsoft franchise has been going for 17 years with nearly 10,000 customers. Shemluck said that's a testament to Rainsoft reliability and longevity.

"You can take Rainsoft equipment anywhere in the country and get it serviced," Shemluck said. "Independents can go out of business."

Shemluck said satisfied customers are a big part of his operation.

"Brad's gotten into customer service — he's so good with customers. His strength is taking a customer and putting a smile on his face. Some people tell us to only send Brad."

Barkley, who's been working with water equipment for close to 15 years, has been with Rainsoft for the last three years.

One of the reasons for strong customer service is the occasional need for an adjustment to a system.

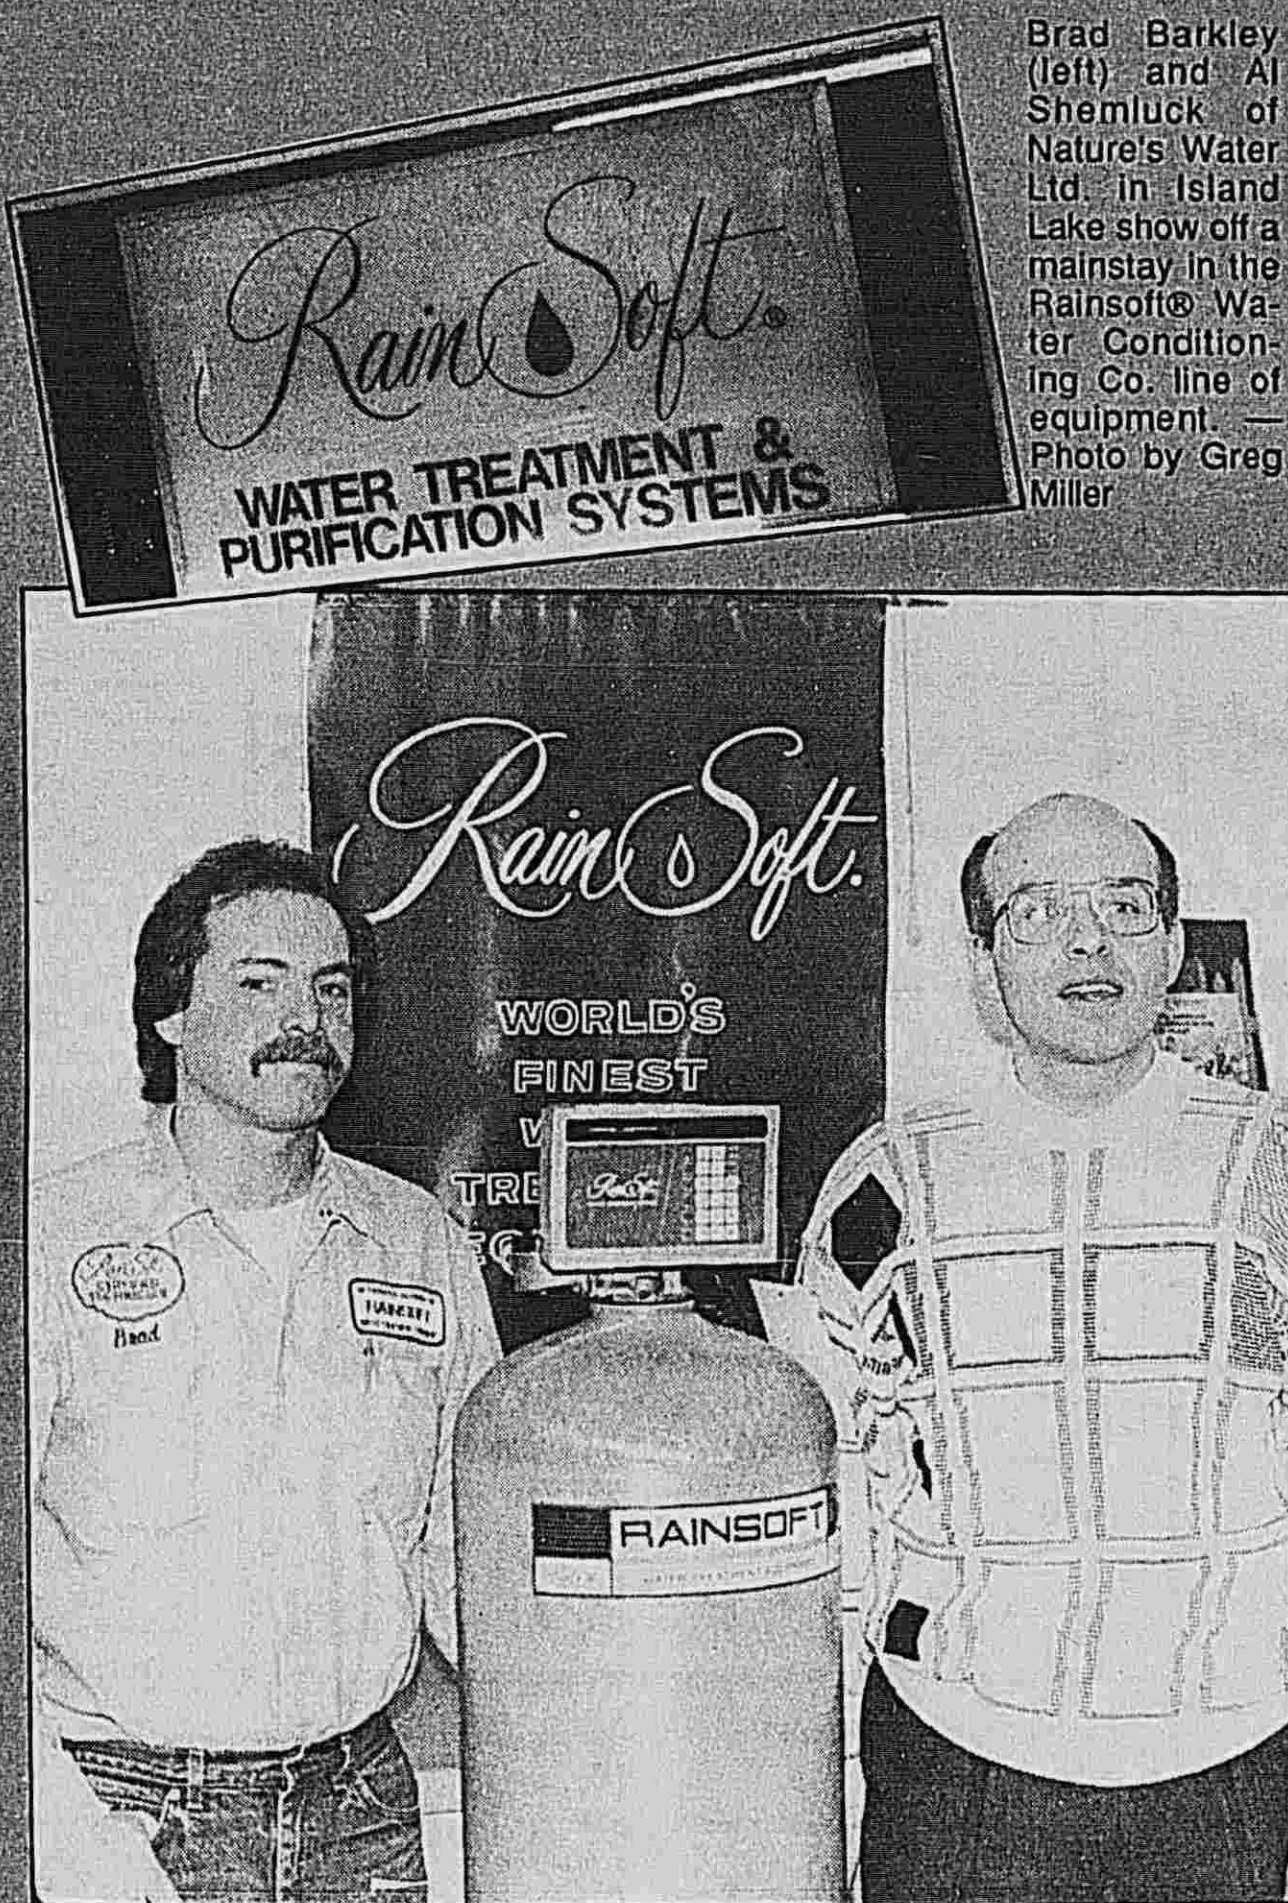

"Water tables change," Shemluck said. "Originally there could have been very little iron, but now there's a lot, and you need an adjustment."

An additional offering by Rainsoft and Shemluck's franchise is a brand new "stand alone" system, which will rid water of "high amounts of iron and sulfur without adding any chemicals such as potassium permanganate or chlorine," Shemluck said.

Nature's Water Ltd. and Rainsoft offer several consumer plans, including direct purchase and rent-to-own. There's financing available and a 90-days-same-as-cash plan.

Rainsoft was founded in the Chicago area in 1953 by John Grayson, who's still president of the parent company.

Based in Elk Grove, Rainsoft enjoyed gross revenues of $20 million in 1990.

Avoid insurance short falls in the future

by ALAN NADOLNA

I'm going to ask you to think about something nobody wants to think about. Are you properly protected or dangerously underinsured?

If you're like most Americans, the question of properly insured cannot be answered with a definite yes or no. Your answer will either be: I think so. I hope so. I don't know.

These answers, I'm afraid, are not good enough. While no one likes to think about dying or being in poor health, much less plan for these contingencies, you must remember that your future, your family's future and if you own one perhaps that of your business is at stake.

What is properly insured?

Being properly insured means you, your family and your business are thoroughly protected against the chance of severe financial loss from life's uncertainties or risks.

This way to wealth

Insurance is simply a device for spreading that chance of financial loss over a large number of people. By purchasing insurance, a person shares the risk with a group of other, thus reducing his or her individual potential for a financial disaster.

An adequate and accurate life insurance program provides a valuable service in that it enables each of us to live with the uncertainty of death. In essence, it's an economic extension of your worth.

Life insurance can provide 100 percent income tax-free dollars to cover family needs, individual needs, estate-planning needs and business needs, family needs.

•provide sufficient income for your surviving spouse or he or she may live a comfortable life:

•pay off your mortgage so your spouse and children won't have to sell and move:

•continue the budget at existing levels, thus allowing your family to avoid the sudden shock of a drastic financial adjustment:

•provide income to care for dependent children and/or dependent parents:

•provide our children with a college education fund and the best chance for a successful future:

Shortfalls

•set aside a family emergency fund to cover any unforeseen and costly emergencies:

•assist in keeping up with the day-to-day expenses of running a home:

Individual needs

•pay off all outstanding debt, such as automobile loans, personal loans, credit cards and other installment loans:

•create a large donation for charitable causes:

•settle all final expenses, such as burial costs:

Estate needs

•protect your estate against forced liquidation:

•provide the most cost-effective estate-tax liquidity:

•pay all administrative costs, thus drastically reducing the cost of transferring your estate:

Business needs

•guard the interest of a valued business partner or spouse should a key-person be struck down without warning:

•salvage the value of a sole proprietorship upon the death of the owner:

•prevent a financial loss to the surviving partners in the event of one partner's demise:

•enable surviving stockholders in a close-corporation to maintain full control over management after the death of a major stockholder:

•provide economic security for your most valued employees:

•and other sound reasons.

Realty World joins relocation program

Realty World-Park Avenue of Libertyville, announced that their office has joined the U.S. Navy Relocation program.

When U.S. Navy families receive orders to move on to another duty station, the experience can be challenging. It often means selling a home and leaving old friends, while finding a new home and settling into a different community.

But thanks to the Realty World System's professional relocation personnel and recent U.S. Navy initiative, the burden of relocating can be lightened considerably. Realty World members have long recognized the need for special help on both ends of the move for the military and other individuals, which is why the ReaLine Relocation service was created more than a decade ago.

Now the Realty World System is participating in a special U.S. Navy initiative to provide military families a range of mortgage and relocation services that can save them aggravation and money.

This new service is part of Realty World Corp.'s ReaLine Military Relocation Program, similar to an Air Force initiative started last year.

"At the national level, our relocation specialists have more than 30 years of combined military relocation experience," says June Wiltsie, National Relocation Manager. The wife of retired Navy Captain Ronald J. Wiltsie, she is a veteran of more than 17 moves during his military career.

Walgreens finds tax records

Walgreens can help find tax records with a computer printout of 1990 prescription purchases.

Because Intercom links all Walgreens pharmacies, your prescription records are always available to you, even if you're traveling in another state. The computer provides information in seconds and automatically produces a label and receipt. That speeds the process of prescription-filling and gives your pharmacist more time to answer questions.

Old Rand Co. offering commemorative medal

The Old Rand Co. of Wauconda is offering a medal commemorating the efforts of U.S. personnel deployed in the Persian Gulf.

Inspired by an historic, 19th-century patriotic engraving, award-winning artist J.M. Calhoun sculpted the subject in bold relief and minute detail.

"We feel strongly that the troops serving in the Gulf deserve our support. This is one way we can show that support by wearing our pride with these commemoratives, and that we can give members of the military special consideration," said Mary E. Newhouse, president of The Old Rand Co.

The concept of producing artistic commemoratives came to Newhouse after seeing an advertisement for Vietnam commemoratives.

Newhouse points out that while demand for the commemoratives grows by the day, there are limits to how many of the carefully hand-finished items can be made without compromising quality. She added that military orders will be given priority and Old Rand asks civilians to please be patient.

Members of the armed forces and their families will receive a discount of nearly 30 percent when they order.

The pins, medallions and buckles are identical to those presented to President Bush and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Civilian prices for the solid pewter pins are $7.95 plus $1.50 for shipping. The hand-antiqued, pewter-finish medallions and buckles are $19.95 plus $2.95 for shipping. Military families receive the pin free when they order either the medallion or buckle.

FOOT NOTES

Dr. Lee M. Tisa, Podiatrist

NEUROMAS--A CONSTANT SOURCE OF FOOT PAIN

Morton's neuroma is an incredibly painful condition affecting the foot. A neuroma is a thickening and/or swelling of the sensory nerve of the foot. The pain from a neuroma is episodic in nature, at first usually bearable, a sort of a dull stinging and burning sensation, which radiates to the 2nd, 3rd, 4th or 5th toes. Pain progresses, however, to a spiraling pain of excruciating level that radiates into the involved toes and feels like it's taking over the entire foot. It is often said that sufferers feel compelled to remove their shoes and to flex and massage their toes rapidly to gain relief.

Treatment of neuromas usually consists of conservative therapy such as alterations to the shoe, cortisone injections to the area, orthotic devices, which are custom arch supports.

If none of these measures work, surgery is the desired course of action and is the most effective in resolving the problem.

Should you experience a dull or severe burning pain in your foot especially in the areas of the base of the toes 2, 3, 4 or 5, please feel free to contact Dr. Lee Tisa for a NO COST CONSULTATION* to discuss your condition.

County leaders to take $11 nutrition challenge

Eleven dollars is the sum the United States Department of Agriculture allows for their Thrifty Food Plan. It is also the maximum allotted participants in the Federal Food Stamp Program.

On March 5, 1991, fifteen community leaders will be asked to take the $11 Nutrition Challenge to learn first hand the problems low-income families struggle with to feed their families, and the kinds of skills and knowledge needed to stretch their limited food dollars.

Each participant will be asked to plan a menu for a day for an imaginary family of four, and to plan a grocery list for those meals. This information will be analyzed for nutritional value by the Nutrition Spot Check computer program.

Participants will be given half an hour to shop for the food selected for their menus. Each "shopper" will be assisted by a Master Food Shopper volunteer who has completed 20 hours of intensive training on all aspects of food buying.

The 4th annual ALL LAKE COUNTY FOOD DRIVE will be held March 9-16, 1991 in conjunction with the Boy Scouts "SCOUTING FOR FOOD" drive. Other sponsors are: Lake County Life Underwriters Association, Lake County Cooperative Extension Service, WKRS-WXLC radio, and Kraft Foods, Inc.

Occasional sleepless nights a minor nuisance

Do you have trouble falling asleep? For many of us, occasional sleepless nights are a minor nuisance caused by the stress of modern life.

But millions of other Americans suffer from disabling conditions tied to long-term sleep problems. They either cannot get enough sleep at night or they are constantly sleepy during the daytime.

About 35 percent of adults in this country have trouble falling asleep. And about half of these unfortunate people regard that difficulty as serious.

Physicians are becoming more and more aware that disordered sleep, like an unusual pain, is a symptom of an underlying problem. If you complain about lack of sleep, their task is to uncover the root cause.

The good news is that 90 percent of all patients seen at sleep disorders centers can be given a specific diagnosis and treatment plan. While modern technology plays a role, the most important diagnostic tool doctors have is clear communication with their patients.

Many times, troubled sleep is caused by physical illness, such as arthritis, or by medications, such as those taken for high blood pressure. Solving these specific problems often cures sleep woes.

Did you know that snoring can be a sign of a severe condition called sleep apnea? Or that thrashing and kicking might signal a disorder called nocturnal myoclonus that interrupts sleep many times a night? Physicians looking into the cause of sleep difficulties may want to ask both you and your sleep partner about your nighttime behavior.

Senior citizens are particularly susceptible to disturbed sleep. Not only can the overall length and quality of sleep change, but the aging process makes older persons more prone to nocturnal myoclonus and sleep apnea.

Your doctor also might ask questions about your eating, drinking and exercise habits, particularly before bedtime. In addition, you might be asked to describe what activities, besides sleep and sexual relations, occur in the bedroom. This helps the doctor to get a clear picture of possible psychological pressures that might play a role in poor sleep.

While treatment plans are tailored to individual needs, the ultimate goal is the same, to send you into each day fully alert and awake after a good night's sleep.

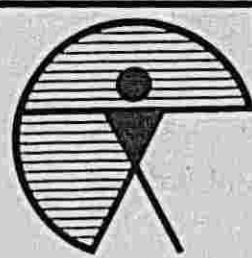

Walking great exercise

Fitness experts claim that exercise, when combined with good eating habits and stress control, can help you lose weight by burning excess calories and controlling your appetite.

Low-impact exercise, such as walking, is growing in popularity as a moderate approach to exercise. It is easy and safe, and can bring you a healthier, happier lifestyle at no expense.

Walking benefits almost everybody regardless of age. Your walking shoes should be of a good quality.

Experiencing lower back pain a common problem

One of the most common health problems experienced by adults is lower back pain. An accident or structural deformity may be the cause of this discomfort in some, but for most people it is due to improper posture, weak abdominal muscles or poor flexibility of the lower back.

Strong and balanced abdominal muscles flatten the mid-section and help stabilize the lower back area. Weak abdominals cause the well-recognized "pot belly" and enhance the curvature of the spine, causing increased pressure in the sensitive lower back area.

Also, weak and inflexible lower back muscles further "tighten" the lower back making it feel stiff and uncomfortable. Without some degree of strength and flexibility, you're more likely to injure your lower back when you have to reach or stretch for something.

Since the muscles of the upper and lower body are used in so many activities, they are more likely to develop some degree of strength and endurance. Strengthening the abdominal muscles, however, requires a specific approach.

Exercises that strengthen the abdominal muscles are commonly known as sit-ups or curl-ups, and there are quite a few variations of each. The most effective and safest follow these guidelines from the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports:

- Keep knees bent and the lower back flat on the floor when doing curl-ups. To strengthen the abdominals you must bring the lower and upper parts of your torso towards each other. Keeping your knees bent makes abdominal exercise more effective.

- Exhale as you perform the motion. As you lift your upper body off the floor, exhale. Then inhale as you lower back down to the floor. This will help you further flatten the abdominals and keep your from holding your breath, which could adversely affect your blood pressure.

- Perform the exercises

slowly. A slow, controlled curl-up is more effective than rapid movements, which use momentum. By stabilizing your arms, either across your chest or behind your head, and slowly performing the exercise you make your abdominals work harder, which will make them stronger.

It is also important to maintain strength and flexibility of the lower back muscles. Since we spend so much time sitting and standing still, this area becomes particularly "tight" and fatigued, resulting in swayback.

The pelvic tilt is commonly recommended to help alleviate this condition. Lie on your back with your feet flat and knees bent. Breathe evenly and flatten your lower back to the floor. Hold for one second and relax. Gradually build up to holding for five seconds, but don't hold your breath. Then try it with your legs slightly extended so your feet are further away from your body. Remember, you lower back naturally curves so it will be impossible to flatten your back totally with your legs fully extended.

An easy lower back stretch is to lie on your back and bring both knees up to your chest. With your arms angled at your side, slowly let your knees roll over to the right until you are totally relaxed. Keep breathing and hold that position for five to 10 seconds. Then, repeat on the other side. You should feel a mild stretch in the lower back, but no pain.

Exercises for the lower back should be done with caution as this is a sensitive area. If you tend to have and discomfort, check with an expert for advice.

Math minds meet at Carmel High School

by TOM BANACH
Lakeland Newspapers

Some of the best young math minds in the north and northwest suburbs gathered at Carmel High School in Mundelein on Saturday to compete in Carmel's annual math contest for seventh and eighth graders. Teams of five competed in the two grade levels in two divisions, along enrollment lines, for team and individual honors.

A very enthusiastic Dr. Robert Watson, chairman of Carmel's math department and program director for the competition, said, "We have so many kids that do so many wonderful things, we wanted to reward them for doing well academically and provide a challenge so they have fun in the learning process."

Twenty public and private schools responded to the invitations sent out by Carmel and sent their students to take the hour long, 73 point test. The test consisted of basic arithmetic to pre-algebra questions and was designed to test reasoning abilities rather than simply computation ability.

Top team was the Division A eighth graders from Hawthorn Junior High School in Vernon Hills with a score of 324 out of a possible 365 points. Top whiz kid was Division A seventh grader, Howard Jeng of Hawthorn, who scored 72 out of 73 possible points.

Team winners and scores. Perfect score is 365.

Division A seventh grade: Hawthorn Junior High School, 301 Vernon Hills; Woodland Junior High School, 246 Gages Lake; Lake Villa Intermediate School, 239 Lake Villa.

Division A eighth grade: Hawthorn Junior High School, 324 Vernon Hills; Twin Groves/Rand Campus, 290 Arlington Hts.; Woodland Junior High School, 271 Gages Lake.

Division 1 seventh grade: St. James, 224 Arlington Hts.; St. Mary's, 216 Buffalo Grove; Holly Cross, 182 Deerfield.

Division 1 eighth grade: St. Mary's, 261 Buffalo Grove; Santa Maria del Popolo, 249 Mundelein; St. James, 224, Arlington Hts.

Individual winners and scores. Perfect score is 73.

Division A seventh grade: Howard Jeng, 72 Hawthorn Junior High School, Vernon Hills; Brian Merzlicker, 65 Woodland Junior High School, Gages Lake; Tom Robey, 62 Hawthorn Junior High School, Vernon Hills.

Division A eighth grade: Otte Lee, 71 Hawthorn Junior High School, Gages Lake; Melissa Ulrich, 67 Hawthorn Junior High School, Vernon Hills.

Division 1 seventh grade: Munir Javeri, 63 St. James, Arlington Hts.; Tim McGee, 51 St. James, Arlington Hts.;

Christopher Berger, 50 St. James.

Division 1 eighth grade: John Barry, 60 St. Mary's, Buffalo Grove; Laura Fung, 57 St. James, Arlington Hts.; Alan Minarik, 57 St. Mary's, Buffalo Grove. (Fung and Minarik tied at 57 points each in a tie breaker. Fung out scored Minarik to take a second place).

Ft. Sheridan cemetery efforts move forward

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

They had served the United States in World War II, Korea or Vietnam wars.

And one by one Saturday, a handful of veterans approached the podium, each with a common goal. To have a national veterans cemetery established at Fort Sheridan.

They were part of a larger group of more than 35 representatives to appear before the Fort Sheridan Commission, stating viewpoints as varied as wanting the 700 acre fort for all parks to no golf courses and no cemetery. No formal decision was reached on the final plan to be presented to Secretary of Defense Dick Cheney. That move is expected in March.

Antioch resident Edward Mulcahy continued his two-year crusade for the cemetery.

"There is a need for 92,000 additional national cemetery gravesites in the Chicago metropolitan area by the year 2030. A 265 acre site would be enough to carry through to the year 2022 with 870 gravesites per acre. The American Legion has a total of 69,581 members in the immediate area in the first and second divisions," Mulcahy said.

Cissna Park representatives appeared

Moms' club sets meeting

Mothers of Pre-Schoolers (MOPS) will meet Thursday, March 14 at the Antioch Evangelical Free Church from 9 to 11:30 a.m. The program provides helpful insights, refreshments and a craft while the children enjoy their Moppet program. The featured at this month's program is "Your Family, A Living Mobile, What is a Family—Life and Balance."

before the commission, headed by Congressman John Porter (R-10th). They suggested their town could be an alternative for the cemetery at Fort Sheridan, but Mulcahy disagreed.

"We the majority, have been deprived of the privilege of a national cemetery in close proximity to our homes for too long. The time to act is now; and the desperate need for it is now," Mulcahy said.

He pointed out Fort Sheridan has easy access, no major environmental concerns, beautiful scenery and a small cemetery already on the site.

Darryl McDaniel, of the Lake Forest McKinlock Post 264, said he would not cite facts and figures, but instead gave a talk from the heart.

"We share a common blood, most of us in this room are veterans of World War II, the forgotten war Korea, and Vietnam. We have given up years of our lives. What happens when they (soldiers in the Persian Gulf) come home? They have paid for it with their pain and sweat," McDaniel said. "Please give to them the honor that is theirs."

"It is something that is deeply needed in the area," Don Blessing, of the Korea Veterans of America, said.

During the more than four hours of testimony at Highland Park High School's auditorium, commission members also heard from consultant Cheryl Baxter. She said the layouts were from the directives given by the commission.

In one alternative, a golf course would be moved to the southeast portion of the property.

Gary Patterson told the commission the Army will keep 90 acres it has for reserve purposes as well as 14 acres in the northwest section. The Army continues to negotiate with the Navy, which is interested in having housing units at the base. The finalization of those plans could come in April.

State Rep. Roger Keates

blasted the Army for waiting until now to make the announcement.

Fort Sheridan administrator Jack Moorehead warned that there could be only some 250 acres of disposable land.

"You should have alternate plans for two or three elements," he said.

"I don't care what they do; just make a final decision," Keates said.

Andrea Moore, president of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., said the Forest Preserve is "extremely interested" in the land.

Two of the principles the commission has adopted are that there be one management agency and that an effort be made for a 100 percent discount.

Joe Reich, board member from Dist. 111 for Highland Park-Homewood said his board has sent a notice to dissolve to the Lake County Regional Supt. office. The district is seeking to be included in neighboring Dist. 107.

Porter said he felt the federal government has vastly underfunded the schools in regard to impact aid.

"The federal government has failed to live up to its responsibility," Porter said.

Jacqueline Kline of the Sierra Club said the area should be restored to its natural state. "We're looking for natural space, not open space. It will be for future generations," she said.

Fred Bates, of the Advocates for Public Interest group, said the park area is one of only three in the state - the others being the Chicago lakefront and Illinois Beach State Park.

He said the group opposes the use of the land for cemetery, golf course or Navy housing. "There are better places for a cemetery. Here is an opportunity for leadership. Let's make this a place for the living to enjoy."

At the close of the meeting, meeting, Porter said the commission will be divided up into various task forces. These will include key issues such as business and development, the management agency, open space, heritage, national cemetery and golf course.

Health Dept. donates lake management materials to county libraries

Citizens concerned with lake problems and their management have a new resource available to them, thanks to the Lakes Management Unit of the Lake County Health Dept. and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. Copies of the 1990 edition of The Lake and Reservoir Restoration Guidance Manual have been donated to every public and academic library in Lake County.

Prepared by the North American Lake Management Society, and produced by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, this authoritative guide will help residents involved with (or interested in) management of the nearly 200 lakes in the county. In addition to covering basic ecological concepts and problem identification, it discusses the importance of watershed management and evaluates the wide variety of in-lake management and restorative techniques that are available. The manual also gives instruction on how to gather water quality data and how to implement a lake management plan, including case studies and up-to-date cost estimates.

"This guide takes people through every phase of lake management," said Sarah Surroz, Water Quality Specialist at the Health Dept. "In very understandable language, it helps people to identify the source of excess weeds, algae and other lake problems, and develop a realistic plan for restoration. Of course, the Lakes Management Unit of the Lake County Health Dept. is available for assistance."

In addition to the manual, libraries have been supplied with an updated list of lake management reports available to the public through the Lake County Health Dept. These reports, which often give detailed information on specific lakes, can either be purchased or reviewed at the main office of the Health Dept., 3010 Grand Ave., Waukegan.

Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward are fast becoming the movie version of Broadway's Lunt and Fontaine or Tandy and Cronyn. Both are actors of the highest quality and both Academy Award winners.

Newman only has one Oscar on the mantle, next to his wife's multiple ones and this discrimination against gorgeous males that are still sexy in their 60s is continuing this year with both of them giving award-winning performances in "Mr. and Mrs. Bridge," and only the Mrs. getting nominated.

This could be Newman's best performance ever as the stereotyped 1930's white, Christian, upstanding, but vapid, American citizen.

Woodward is the robotic good mother and admirable wife, with no life or views of her own, the type that all the feminists are trying to erase.

The movie transmits the undercurrents in these two personalities as they face family crisis with the chinks in Newman's armor chipping away as each trauma emerges.

Woodward just muddles deeper into a search for thoughts of her own.

There are times when all these psychological undercurrents get tedious, but for those of us who are over 40 and remember our parents, it is a sentimental return to the superficial, but in many ways less confusing times.

We are giving it a 4.5 out five stars, primarily based on the performances of two of today's best actors in any medium.

Be There

"Weekend Comedy," a wacky farce, is set to open at Andres Steakhouse in Richmond on March 2 and 3. The show will run on weekends throughout March.

Hunter Country Club will be hosting and Arts and Crafts Show, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., on Saturday, March 2.

And if you feel more crafty than that, the "really big one" is set for March 9 and 10 at the Wisconsin State Fair Park. This one is also "a gift show." Ventriloquism, puppetry, comedy, hypnotism, magic and balloon sculpting will be featured.

For the biggest one of all, Lambs Farm, Libertyville, will hold its second annual Spring Showcase Art, Craft and Country Folk Art Show and Sale, at O'Hare Expo Center on March 22 and 23. Over 250 exhibitors are expected to be there.

The whole family can get into the swing of things at a traditional community barn dance on Saturday, March 2, at 8 p.m., at the American Legion Hall in Libertyville.

Also on March 2, in true Mardi Gras tradition, the David Adler Cultural Center in Libertyville has a cure for the winter doldrums, a Cajun Carnival Extraordinaire for $30 per person, at Lake Forest Academy. There will be revelry and festivities of a New Orleans style "Fat Tuesday" celebration.

Call (708)367-0707 for more information.

Barbara Enders, member of the College of Lake County faculty, will present a final concert of the Concert Grand Piano Series II, at 3 p.m., on Sunday, March 10, in the CLC auditorium on the college's Grayslake campus.

Marriott's 'Charlie' refreshing

by TOM WITOM

Like the enduring Charles Schulz' "Peanuts" comic strip, known to compress a world of wisdom into a scan three or four newspaper panels, "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown" distills a contemporary philosophy within the single hour it takes for this refreshing dramatic presentation to unfold.

Written by Clark Gesner, this latest production is part of the continuing series of Marriott's Lincolnshire Theater for Young Audiences. Its appeal is hardly limited to the younger set.

A spirited six-member cast celebrates the life and times of that lovable blockhead, Charlie Brown, in lively song and dance.

Robert Mason stars as Charlie, a modern-day Everyman who plays the eternal optimist, even though he's constantly frustrated in his attempt to punt a football or pitch a winning baseball game and cannot work up the courage to approach the pretty redhead who has captured his young heart. Charlie's inner beauty shines, reflecting patience and persistence — his key traits.

Tina Callari is charming in her own way as the know-it-all bossy Lucy who rates higher than she expected on her "crabiness scale."

Then there's K.C. Lupp, as Linus, who clings to his security blanket as if his life depended on it. Rounding out the cast are Nancy Voigts as Peppermint Patty and James Zager as the erudite pianist Schroeder.

But a favorite character, Snoopy (Andrew Lupp) often steals the show, whether he's chasing a spotlight or making a big production number over his nightly feeding.

"You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown," directed by Dyanne Earley with musical direction by Paul Raiman, will run through May 18 with performances scheduled Wednesday through Friday at 10 a.m. and Saturday at 11 a.m., plus added shows during the school spring break. Unlike other children's programs, seats are assigned.

3 win from Lake County

Jennie Ng takes music contest 1st

Jennie Ng of Lake Forest was awarded first place in the Waukegan Symphony Orchestra's 11th Annual Young Artists Competition. Under the direction of Richard Hynson, three Lake County students competed for first, second, and third place cash prizes.

Ng performed the third movement of Beethoven's "Piano Concerto No. 1." Steven Cheng of Libertyville was awarded second place and Eileen Preuss of Hawthorn Woods placed third.

Special guests of the Young Artists Competition included students of the Suzuki Program from Andrew Cooke Magnet Elementary School in Waukegan.

A junior at Lake Forest High School, Ng currently studies with Carol Honigberg. She is very active in her school as well as the community. Her awards include first place at the NSMTA Piano Competition Senior Division and the Lake Forest High School Honors Competition. She has received superior ratings at the Illinois High School Assn. in 1990 and 1989 for piano solo. She also received a Silver Medal at the NSMTA Sonatina/Sonata Piano Festival. She is active with the Lake Forest High School jazz band and orchestra and the North Shore Chinese Church Disciples of Christ.

The Young Artists Competition was started during the 1980-81 season of the Waukegan Symphony Orchestra. Changes have been made over the past 11 years and currently the competition is open to any student up through a senior in high school going to school or residing in Lake or McHenry Counties, Illinois or Kenosha County, Wisconsin.

The cash prizes awarded to the finalists ($500 first prize, $250 second prize, and $100 third prize) are provided by the Fuqua Memorial Fund, a fund started by Ellis and Madeleine Fuqua of Waukegan in 1982.

Local artists to exhibit

Thirty-seven artists will participate in a self-portrait invitational, "Introspections," from March 1 to April 14 at the College of Lake County. An opening reception will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday, March 1, in the CLC Community Gallery of Art, 19351 W. Washington St., Grayslake.

The exhibition, featuring artists from Chicago and local communities, and from Ohio and St. Louis, presents works ranging from realism to abstraction and from traditional to unconventional media.

Among the artists featured is Dan Ziembo (Lake Villa), CLC art instructor. According to Steve Jones, curator and exhibit coordinator, Ziembo's self-portrait is unique.

Using computer graphics, Ziembo portrays himself in a number of guises, including the Giza Sphinx and Gainsborough's Blue-boy, and experiments with the possibilities offered by video animation, observed critic Garrett Holg, a Chicago correspondent for "Art News" and a contributing writer to the "New Art Examiner" and the "Chicago Sun-Times."

"While some artists use mirror as the traditional vehicle for self-portrait, others explore and adapt 20th century technologies, including computer graphics. By looking at the pictures created by these artists, we become acutely aware of the complexities inherent in the simple act of seeing," said Holg.

Local artists participating in the exhibit are John O. Edgcomb, Steven Jones, Carolyn Neuhaus-Jones, Alex, Kirsten and Ramona K. Mitchell of Lake Forest, Joseph Hronek of Mundelein, Linda Kardoff of Lake Villa, Beverly Kedzior of Buffalo Grove, William Kniest of Wildwood, Judith Roth and Linda Talaba of Deerfield, and Skip Wiese, Reginald Coleman and Stephen Wilber of Waukegan.

The gallery hours are from 8 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Fridays, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturdays and 1 to 5 p.m. on Sundays.

For information, call (708)223-6601, ext. 240.

A Yaching Vacation

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Did you ever dream of sailing the Caribbean in your own yacht? I'm not talking about the well-known "Windjammer Cruises". No, I mean your own private sailing yacht where you set the course!

You don't have to win the lottery to make that dream come true. If you have a couple of friends with the same dream, you can charter your own fully crewed yacht for less than the price of an average seven-day Caribbean cruise. And that includes meals, drinks (hard and soft), fuel, ice, the works.

For experienced sailors, there are many "sail yourself" yachts available. However, for the average sailor (such as myself, who can't keep his Butterfly sailboat upright), I'd suggest a crewed yacht. You get an experienced captain and a first mate who doubles as your cook. You'll have plenty of opportunity to take the helm with some expert instructions. Your crew does the housekeeping, provisions the boat and acts as your guide on shore excursions. You'll find most crews are actually husband and wife teams.

The majority of charters originate in the U.S. Virgin Islands. The calm waters and steady tradewinds make for unsurpassed sailing. Where you go from there is only limited by the length of your dream vacation. Seven to ten days is recommended, but you set the schedule.

Want to do a little diving? Centry-old shipwrecks and colorful coral reefs await you. Snorkeling more your style? Anchor off a deserted white-sand beach and snorkel in for a shore lunch.

If sails, sun and sand are your thing, consider a yacht vacation.

At Wellington

'Prelude' ingenious Broadway import

by TOM WITOM

The stage is a wonderful place for make-believe to come alive, and it does so with grace and charm via an ingenious Broadway import, "Prelude to a Kiss."

This fantasy, written by Craig Lucas and being presented at Chicago's Wellington Theater through April 14, is aptly billed as an adult fairy tale.

Critic's Choice

The simple story line — boy meets girl, courts girl and marries girl — has one unusual hitch: after their wedding, the young bride is no longer the same person he married. Literally.

Through a quirk of fate, Rita (Rengin Altay) kisses an uninvited guest at the wedding reception and instantly has a modern-day out-of-body experience. her soul enters the frame of an old, dying man. The only one who comes to know this terrible secret is her new husband Peter (Scott Jaack).

"Prelude" skims over some of the imponderables of such an improbable event (it's a fairy tale, after all). But the situation that results is ideal for testing the depth of that most basic human emotion, love.

Even for a character such as Peter, the product of a difficult childhood, this bizarre situation is a stretch. Only his perseverance brings its just reward.

Michael Nussbaum carries off his role admirably as the hapless "fairy godfather" who suddenly finds his body with a new tenant: a young bride.

"Prelude to a Kiss" is a warm and worthy love story. For ticket information: (312)975-7171.

Auto show, Persian Gulf show need for home fuels

We have just completed another Chicago Auto Show which captivates all travelers as they look forward to their pleasure and business trips to come.

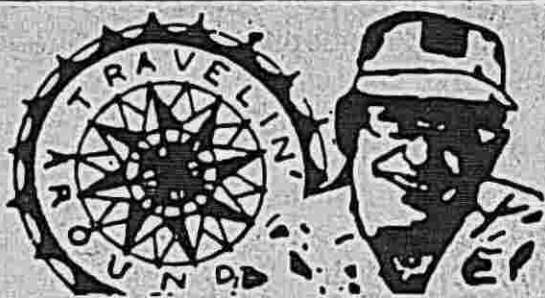

With so many names and styles on display selections require careful consideration of usage and of course, the personal budget.

Sometimes it seems a manufacturer would be most successful if he could create an "old car." Let's say, for example, a 1931 Bugattie Royale Berline de Voyage, which, four years ago sold for $8.1 million or the 1962 Ferrari which reportedly sold for $13.8 million. But Enzo Ferrari died in 1988. Once deceased, an artist's products may reach values never imagined during a lifetime.

A new car on display this year was Vector. Hand build around aerospace technology for the road and for a change, American built. Bob Braner, Vector representative, classifies it as the fastest production car anywhere. Its twin turbos move it from 0 to 60 mph in four seconds and top 200 mph. or more!

Only 10 were produced last year and they are shooting for one a week this year on order. Don't run out too fast as the price is $378,000. Perhaps Vector has reversed the historically aged car reverence to create a form of contemporary history, and history creates more interest among travelers and collectors than any other basic attraction.

While other auto fuel types are getting new consideration, the Persian Gulf War brings to the surface our needs to seek out fuels found in our own country.

Compressed gases, electricity and other chemicals are striving for acceptance. Conservationists, however, see the greatest advantage in solar energy which is replaced daily, does not contaminate the air we breath, the water, food or the land, and not one owns it. Yet! But then, who worries about a "Sunshine spill?" That's what travelers strive to find, why not use it in the search?

This morning when I came down stairs, Otis, our dog with whom we baby-sit, was not curled at the bottom stair tread. His master had returned and Otis had returned home. Funny how a dog in the house can be such a pleasure even to 10 day baby-sitter, like us.

The credit goes in two directions and starts with the care and love given the animal during his youthful training. Now a mature animal, we find him a pleasant house companion in his "Golden Age" he blends well with ours as he mixes with our houseguests in a quiet, obedient and friendly manner, and they all want to steal Otis someday.

Dogs can be great companions for life. You can scold or punish them but they always come back without malice as strong friends. Others may seem impossible as they irritate both owner and strangers by their outlandish and uncontrolled behavior. Who's fault is that? Most likely the person who failed to train them properly, not the animal who really wants to please.

The time taken in training a young dog can be one of life's best investments and can create 10 to 15 years of pleasant companionship between animal and owner.

Training combines simple commands, patience and understanding. Be consistent, 10 minutes a day can do wonders, preferably at a specified time and with verbal rewards for accomplishments, followed by food.

Teach the basics of sit, come, down, stay and heel, after that add whatever you wish, you'll both enjoy the results.

If it's not a pup, even an older dog can stand a refresher, and despite the popular misconception, learn new tricks. He will love to please his master by broadening his accomplishments.

Otis has made us wish we could again add a dog to our household, so as the saying goes, we're going to "take it up with the elevator" and we use elevators much more frequently these days.

'Hot L' comes to CLC

The College of Lake County theatre department will present its spring mainstage production, "The Hot L Baltimore," at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, March 8, 9, 15 and 16, and Thursday, March 14, in the building 5 theatre on the Grayslake campus, 19351 W. Washington St.

"The Hot L Baltimore" is written by Lanford Wilson, one of the most respected playwrights in current American theatre. With unabashed sentiment, Wilson celebrates the simple virtues of kindness, respect and hope within the setting of a seedy hotel that is about to be demolished.

The missing "e" in the marquee and the title gives a clue to the story of a place of faded elegance and lost dreams, peopled with wandering souls and the small dramas of every day life.

The play has earned several recognition awards, including the Obie Award for best Off-Broadway play, New York Drama Critics Circle Award for Best American Play, the Outer Critics Circle Award and the John Gassner playwriting prize.

CLC instructor Robert

Coscarelli is the director of the production. Set designs and technical direction are by instructor Thomas Mitchell.

Tickets are $5 general admission and $3 for students, staff, seniors and alumni. Tickets can be purchased by calling the CLC student activities box office, (708)223-6601, ext. 300.

MART

(708)223-8161

Automobile's upkeep is important everyday task

It doesn't matter whether your car is right out of the showroom, almost new, or 10 years old, proper maintenance is an important factor in keeping it running smoothly.

A tune-up approximately every six months or after 10,000 miles (especially if they are highway miles), is a good idea if you want your car to run to its full potential. This will not only make your everyday driving less stressful, worrying about your car breaking down at inopportune moments, but it will also increase your car's resale value, as long as you keep the service station receipts.

Learning the basics about your car is something you should consider. At times, it would be to your advantage to know how to check or even change the oil in your car, replace wiper blades or change a tire. Many schools have an auto shop where students can learn the basics about car maintenance, something that they may be grateful for at a later time in their lives.

It is a good idea to bring your car to a local mechanic if you suspect that it is not running like it normally should. Something that could be a minor problem with your car's engine today may become a major headache tomorrow if not taken care of immediately. A mechanic will be able to clear up the problem before the cost and aggravation escalate.

Don't try doing any work on your car if you're not familiar with that part of the engine or chassis. In the long run, you may end up costing yourself more in time and money when you have to bring the car to a mechanic to right your wrongs or pay the hospital bills for the injuries you've inflicted upon yourself.

LUXUS

OVERALL DIMENSIONS: 50'-0" X 48'-0"
LIVING: 1695 square feet
GARAGE: 576 square feet

LUXUS (400-10)
By Landmark Designs, Inc.

The Luxus is a two-story home designed to take full advantage of a compact city lot. By working with angles, the designer has created an attractive side yard that allows full utilization of an area that usually lies idle.

While the garage sits squarely on the lot, far enough back from the street to meet set-back requirements, the living room is placed at an angle and is much closer to the street. The bright room has a fireplace and wide bay windows.

A wide deck wraps around the side and back of the home. It is accessible through sliding glass doors in the living room, dining room and kitchen. In the center of the spacious country kitchen is a work island/eating bar combination. The kitchen has both a broom closet and a pantry, adding to the already generous counter and cupboard space. A large utility room is adjacent to the eating nook.

The entryway is open to the second floor. Plants will flourish on top of the entry closet, bathed in light from a window at the top of the stairs. A closet halfway up the stairs provides additional storage, and a linen closet on the upper floor adds still more.

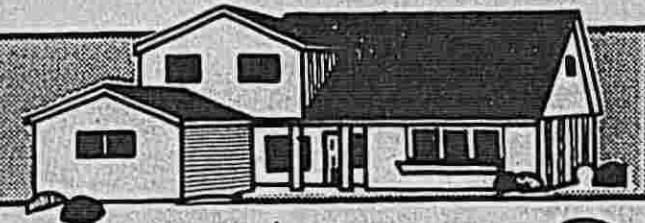

Like the rooms below, the master suite is set at an angle. It has a large walk-in closet and a spa tub. The other two bedrooms, one with a dormer window, share a bathroom.

For a study plan of the LUXUS (400-10), send $7.50 to Landmark Design, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering.) Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

"You Supply The Pet,
We'll Supply The Rest"

Preparing your dog for road trips

If the only time your dog enters a car is to go to the vet, the car may present

your dog with an unfavorable image. Here are a few tips to help a reluctant "Rover."

• Start taking your dog along on short errands to the grocery or hardware store. After your return from these short trips give the dog a treat. Never leave your dog in the car in hot or below zero weather!

• Before you start the care, sit quietly in the care with your dog. Pet and speak calmly to the dog to reassure him that the car is a safe place.

• Bring along a familiar blanket or chew toy to make your dog feel comfortable.

• Slowly increase the frequency and length of these little jaunts until the dog becomes comfortable, or even excited, about the prospect of riding in the car.

Sequoits fall in finale

Just when Antioch's boys basketball team was getting used to wearing the hottest team not competing for the North Suburban Conference championship" tag, this happened.

"This" in the form of a disappointing and end of the regular season 55-45 loss to Zion-Benton. Antioch had won four game win streak in the NSC, but finishes the regular season at 11-15 overall, 6-12 in the NSC. Zion finished in ninth place in the NSC, 4-14, 8-17 overall.

Antioch competes in the Waukegan sectional complex this week.

"We did not come ready to play and Zion played very well," Antioch Coach Jeff Dresser said of the Zion-Benton game.

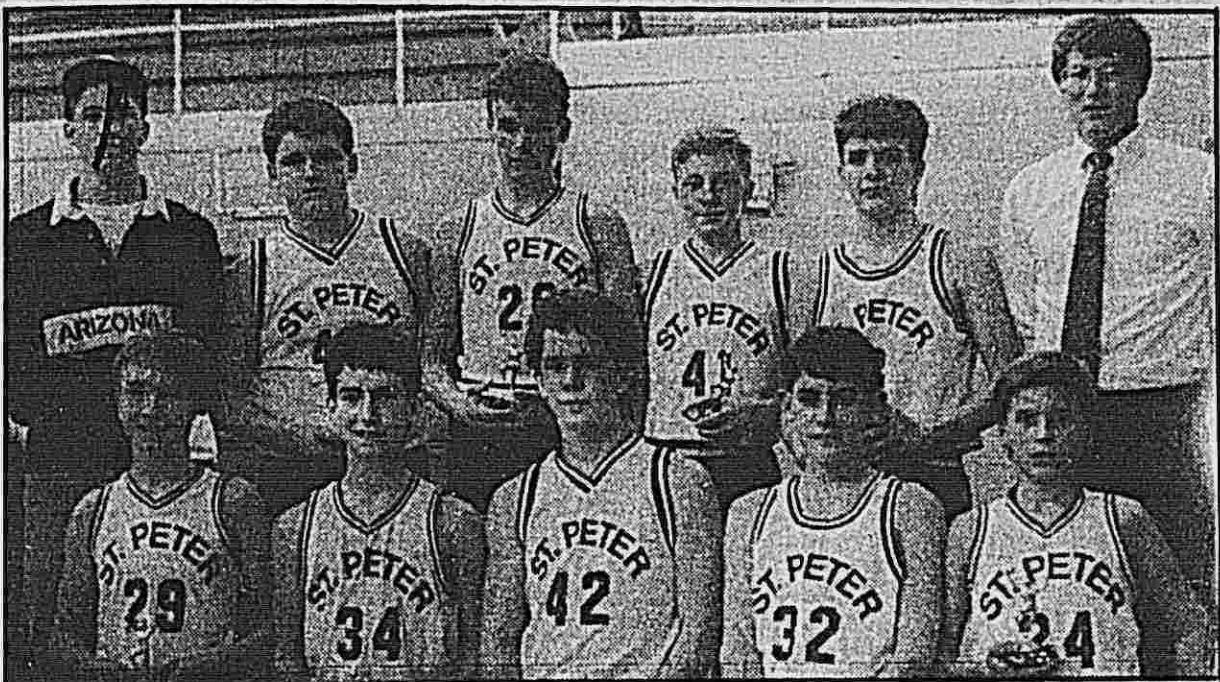

Tim Fox scored 15 points for Antioch and Steve Manderscheid had 11. The game was a sec-saw contest in the first half, but Zion began to build a lead in the third quarter.

Balanced scoring had been the characteristic of the Sequoits this season, as four players had right around nine points a game. They were: senior guard Manderscheid, senior center Mike Warren, senior forward Dan Mead and junior forward Andy Haley.

"Haley has improved his whole game. He did a nice job learning to play defense," Dresser said.

Haley was also the team's best three-point shooter percentage wise, making 40 percent of the long-range shots.

St. Peter's basketball team won the Class B title in the Knights of Columbus tournament at Carmel High School. St. Peter downed St. Patricks 53-42 in the title game. Players include, first row from left: Brad Lehner, Chris Passarella, Dave Smith, Brent Lubeck and Mike Denzel. Second row: assistant coach Steve Manderscheid, Adam Haley, AJ Case, Tim McKinney, Art Wicklein and Coach Kurt Duehr.

Grayslake pondering strategies for bike paths

Grayslake Community Park Dist. and the Village of Grayslake may be teaming efforts to bring a bicycle path system to the village.

The park's board of commissioners has authorized seeking a grant from the Illinois Dept. of Conservation for a half-mile bike path from South Creek subdivision's park site to Lincoln Ave. and to the railroad station.

Another portion would connect the bike path in Central Park to Grayslake Junior High.

"We're hoping to pool our resources," Grayslake Park Dist. Executive Dir. John Wilson said.

Grayslake Village Mgr. Mike Ellis said the village has taken no action on its participation in the project, but he has met with Wilson on the matter.

Wilson said the bike path would be part of the village's greenway corridor system.

In other matters, park commissioners authorized a survey of residents to be included in the spring brochure to be mailed March 15.

The survey includes 30 questions and will be sent to 500 residents, who will be randomly selected. It includes questions on support for the park's proposed aquatic center.

"We're hoping for a big return," Wilson said.

Grayslake Community Park Dist. jackets were given to coaches who youth basketball coaches. Blaire Morcom and Herb Bonnet were recognized for getting the program off and running with 100 participants.

Blair Morcom and Bill

Churchill were presented awards from the Illinois Park and Recreation Assn. and Illinois Park Dist. Assn. Churchill is a member of the lakes committee and the residents advisory board.

Longtime softball coach Frantz plans to retire

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Like most last Mondays in February, Elaine Frantz was anxious to get the softball season underway at Grayslake High School.

For every year since 1974-75, Grayslake High softball players knew there would be a pre-season meeting, some weeks of hard pre-season conditioning and those three weeks of trying to determine just the best starting lineup.

All of the above are happening or beginning to happen at Grayslake High this week, with a twist. For this will be the last season Frantz will be along the sidelines at GCHS. The school board has accepted her decision to retire at the close of the softball season in May.

"I'll miss the other coaches a lot," Frantz said.

Frantz received her start in sports at an early age as herself and her brother played softball in the Charleston area.

"My Dad was a coach on the 4-H teams, and when we played neighboring teams, girls could play, but not in state competition," Frantz.

Frantz still owns interest in that 300 acre farm which served as home long before the days of Title IX.

Frantz, whose mother Edythe was a teacher, coached several sports other than softball for the Rams. She also started basketball, field hockey and volleyball programs at Grayslake.

Frantz is a physical education teacher by trade and that means a lot more than rolling a ball out and letting students play. There were the days of co-ed classes, electives such as bowling at Kristopf's and co-ed track.

"Before Title IX, we always had equal but separate programs," Frantz said.

The state of physical fitness among high school students is a national issue. Modern necessities such as television and video-cassette recorders have helped cut into the physical fitness level of today's teenagers, Frantz said. But by doing such activities as aerobics, one can get the same benefits as the old five-mile run.

'88-'89	9-13	7-7 (fifth)

When she first started, freshmen, sophomore, juniors and seniors were all combined into one class period. Also, at that time health education was taught one day a week for the entire year. She was an innovator in the area, one of the first teachers to plan a semester health course as it is now offered.

For 30 years, Frantz taught the Standard American Red Cross First Aid Course, given to juniors, who took it in place of physical education. This is now part of the driver education curriculum.

While known for her dedication to coaching, Frantz was also involved in several extra curricular activities. The McHenry resident's time was consumed by: sponsor of Girls Athletic Assn., 1957-76; cheerleader and pep club for five years and drill squad for one year.

Frantz serves as the school's assistant athletic director, a post she has had since it was changed from girls sports coordinator. Athletic Director Harold Jahnke had high praise for Frantz's accomplishments.

"She understood it would take a while to build up the equity in girls athletics in ability, finances and numbers," Jahnke said.

Frantz is a strong believer in girls coaching girls. That is how women's sports began in the mid-1970s but the present trend is to have more men than women coaching girls.

Jahnke said he hopes the school will name someone who will essentially be in charge of girls sports while he handles guys.

While the sports may have changed in the 34 years, as long as the physical fitness level of students, one thing has remained constant for Frantz and the Rams: softball.

Several sister combinations have donned the green and white. They include: Hollie and Patti Harvey (1986-87); Jennifer (1984) and Tracy McClanahan (1991); Karen (1988) and Julie (1990) Ring; Karen

Elaine Frantz

(1979) and Laurie (1989) Stockland and Dee (1975) and Gail (1982) Stull.

The best years included winning all the games the first year the sport was offered (1974-75); sub-regional champs in 1977-78 and regional champs in 1985-86.

That was the only regional championship for Frantz, as the team was led by Hollie Harvey, Lisa Richardson as all-conference players; pitcher Alice Norton and Tammie McDonough. The team was only 5-9 in the Northwest Suburban Conference, finishing sixth, but caught fire in the post-season. The Rams downed Warren in Gurnee for the regional title, earning a trip to the Barrington sectional.

Standout players in the early years included Sally Behrensman, Kathy Kelly and DeeDee Pucett on that first team; Angie Bellasivia, Barb Brandsetter and Lucy Poprowsk and Kathy Micuccio on the sub-regional team; Sharon Meyer and Lisa Reynolds on the 1981-82 team which was second in the conference and Laura Phillips and Kristi Blasuis on the last team with a winning record, 1988-89.

Frantz has a 128-167-1 record heading into the 18th season as softball coach at Grayslake and has never won a NWSC crown.

But as always, there is a feeling of optimism in the air as February turns to March at GCHS.

CLC's Painter looks for the welcome mat

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

Kelly Painter is hoping someone will put out a wrestling welcome mat.

Painter, a College of Lake County sophomore, has just returned from a trip to the National Junior College Athletic Association's national championships, and the experience has left him hungry for more competition.

"It was a good experience," Painter said. "If a didn't qualify (for the nationals) it was for sure I wasn't going to wrestle next year. This made me want to wrestle more."

The problem is Painter must now sort out his priorities. He's finished his two years of juco and must continue his academics — and hopefully athletics — at a four-year institution.

Although Painter has been accepted at Illinois State, he said he's not sure if he'd have the opportunity to wrestle for the Redbirds.

So, CLC wrestling coach Stan Pasiewicz is putting out some feelers with the hope of finding a quality college looking for a quality athlete.

"Kelly did a nice job for us for two years," Pasiewicz said. "He's a hard worker in the wrestling room."

Pasiewicz said Painter's 18-9 record this past season could have been better.

"He had a number of injuries on and off which hurt him," Pasiewicz said. "He lost some close matches to good wrestlers early, and that hurt his confidence, I think."

"Kelly's a kid who hasn't reached his full potential yet. He'd like to continue wrestling if it works in, but he'd like to continue school — that's the emphasis."

Painter, a 1989 graduate of Waukegan West, just missed a trip to the NJCAA nationals as a freshman at CLC with a fourth-place finish in the Region 4 competition.

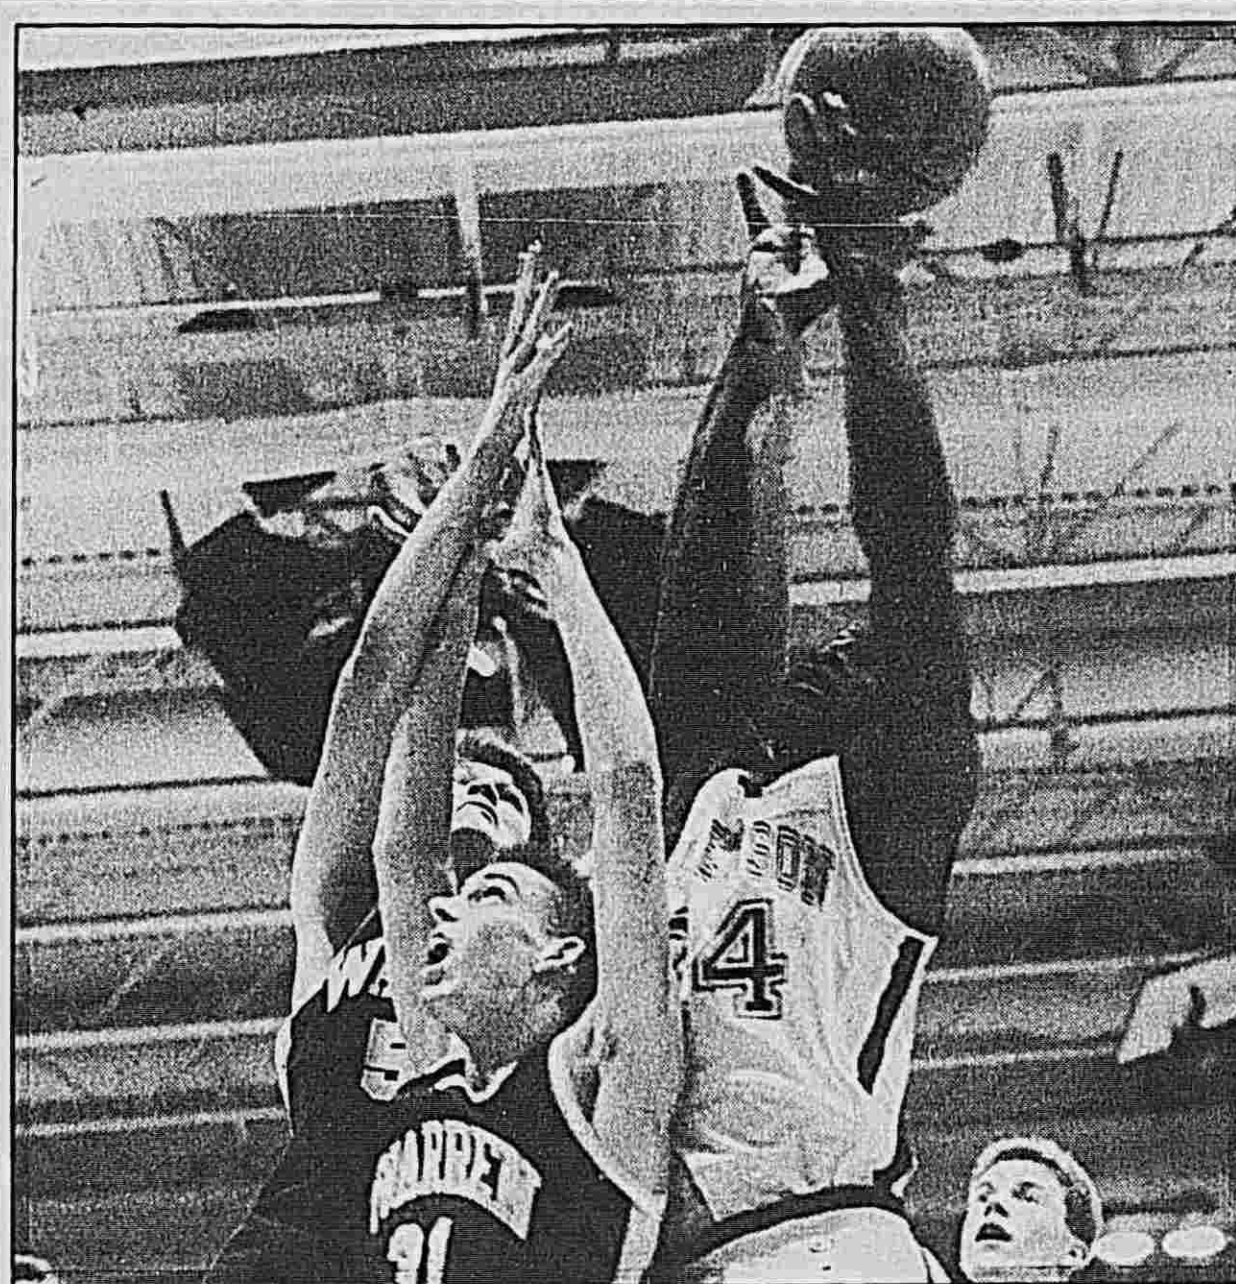

His third-place in the 167-pound class this year earned him a place in national tourney, which was sponsored by Bismarck State College in Bismarck, N.D. There were 24 wrestlers in each of 10 divisions.

In his first match at the nationals, Painter decisioned John Ederea of Niagara (N.Y.) College, 10-6. He dropped his second match to Myron Fletcher of Merrimac (Mo.) College, 18-8, and fell to Matt Wilson of Nassau (N.Y.) College, 5-2, in the wrestle-backs.

"The guys he lost to went on to place," Pasiewicz said. "When he lost, he lost to decent wrestlers."

Painter wasn't disappointed by his efforts.

"I feel really good about qualifying," Continued on page 45

Horn in all-star gameArea graduates sign on with Big Ten teams

Libertyville football coach Dale Christensen will send a fourth son off to the college grid wars this fall when his youngest leaves for East Lansing, Mich.

Matt Christensen, a 6-foot-4, 225-pound linebacker who racked up 118 tackles for Libertyville last season, will follow three brothers into the collegiate ranks after signing with Michigan State.

Mark Christensen was an NCAA Division I-AA All-American offensive guard at Southwestern Missouri. Eric is a junior linebacker at Indiana State and led the Sycamores in tackles the last two seasons. Kirk was red-shirted as a freshman tight end last season.

It's likely Matt will be red-shirted too, his dad said.

"It's a rare situation where you walk into a pretty good program and play as a freshman," Dale Christensen said.

Coach Christensen added that in the end, Matt opted for the Spartans over Ohio State because of Michigan State head coach George Perles.

"The stability of the head-coach situation was a factor," Dale Christensen said.

"And, he likes Perles' philosophy."

Also in the Big Ten, Mike Maciag of Carmel will join fellow CHS graduate Jeff Zgonia at Purdue, and North Chicago's all-state quarterback Johnny Johnson will attend the University of Illinois.

Running back Garrett Horn, meanwhile, of Round Lake, was chosen to compete in the North-South All-Star game in June.

The last Round Lake representative was Larry West in 1989.

The Panthers, Northwest Suburban Conference champions, will be sending one to the biggest contingents to the collegiate ranks this year.

Safety Tom Minkalis will attend Millikin; Marx Drath will attend Millikin or North Central; Tom Whitten will attend North Park; Nick Mastendra will attend Concordia; Aric Rodriques, Steve Pressoir will attend Harper or the College of DuPage.

Sane Santana will attend Concordia College while Brian Smith will attend Northern Illinois University.

"We had 20 coaches come through here," Dunn said.

Leading the cheers

The Stevenson High School mascot heads into enemy territory - to the Warren side of the gym - in the battle for North Suburban Conference title. Stevenson won 82-79 in overtime. Pats are top seed in this week's first and second round games of the Waukegan sectional.

Intensity main factor for Bears' Strobl

Getting to the top is one thing, staying there is another battle.

So what did Al Strobl do less than a week after winning the state wrestling title at 160 pounds.

"He started weightlifting today," Lake Zurich Coach Mick Torres said.

Strobl could spend his summer in Greco-Roman or Freestyle competition and is expected to be on the Illinois team in the USA wrestling competition in June. For Strobl, a junior, reached his dream with a state title at Champaign the week before. He downed Joe Wier of Belleville East with a 6-5 decision. But perhaps Strobl's biggest test came the match before. In the semi-finals, Strobl downed Conant's Tony Expresso 9-4.

"He had wrestled him four times in summer in freestyle," Torres said.

Strobl won all 40 matches this season, but in the final he was up against an opponent who had scouted him well.

"We could not get anything over on the throws. He stayed away from the upper body techniques," Torres said.

Torres, although nervous with the championship atmosphere, was not about to let the chance to become the first Lake Zurich wrestler to win a state title slip away.

"Al's drive and intensity and pure determination was the difference," Torres said.

The win gave Torres cause for celebration as well.

RL shows depth, tops Grant in finale

Depth is the mark of any winner, and Round Lake's boys basketball team is no exception.

For the Panthers used depth of talent to pave the way to complete a 14-0 Northwest Suburban Conference season with a 68-59 win over host and rival Grant.

The Panthers trailed by 17 points in the second half, but used a trapping defense led by substitute Justin Koski and Adam Tesch along with senior Garrett Horn to take the home team out of its game plan.

"They did a nice job on the trap and I thought Horn played his best game of the year," Round Lake Coach Bob Ward said.

The Panthers had secured the Northwest Suburban Conference championship the previous week, and showed they will be a force to be reckoned with in future years. Sophomore Koski came off the bench to score 11 points.

"In the last four or five games, he has been giving us good production off the bench. We realized he had potential when we brought him up to the varsity as a sophomore," Ward said.

Koski's points included two three-pointers. Koski is one of two sophs on the team, Ben Buchanan is other.

Round Lake notched another 20-win season with the victory, made possible by a balanced attack led by 14 points from Horn and Pat Lejman and 13 from Wally Illg.

Grant enjoyed a 43-26 lead in the third quarter before Round Lake stormed back.

"Free-throws let us down and they trapped us successfully," Grant Coach Tom Maple said.

Why do I get so afraid? The treatment of panic attacks and panic disorders

March 13, 1991 7-8 p.m.

Presented by:

Robert Baker, M.D.

Staff Psychiatrist, Saint Therese Medical Center

Anyone who has experienced panic attacks knows the classic signs and symptoms: rapid heart rate, shortness of breath, cold and sweaty palms, dry mouth, muscle tension and a feeling of impending doom. In short, they are extremely uncomfortable episodes of acute anxiety. Many people who experience panic attacks are reluctant to seek help, either out of embarrassment or out of fear that treatment cannot help. But there are several approaches to the treatment of these disorders that have proven to be very effective. This presentation will review the forms of treatment available and help inform participants when and how to seek help.

OK lower rate

FOX LAKE—Fox Lake trustees, managers of the North West Regional sewage treatment system serving 15,000 users in northwest Lake County, moved Tuesday night to recommend a $3 reduction in the $19.75 bi-monthly user fee scheduled to go into effect May 1. Current revenues adequately cover debt service, operational costs and required surplus, reported Edward Benjamin, village financial adviser. Current rate is $13. "If we don't need it, we shouldn't charge it," declared Trustee Rich Bayne, sewer and water chairman. Under a system of inter-governmental agreements, Fox Lake provides sewage treatment for the neighboring Lakes Region Sanitary Dist., the entire Round Lake area and parts of Lake Villa. The rate reduction will have to be approved by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

Study bike path

GRAYSLAKE—Grayslake Community Park Dist. and the Village of Grayslake may be teaming efforts to bring a bicycle path system to the village of Grayslake. The park board has authorized seeking a grant from Illinois Dept. of Conservation.

Developer waits

WAUKEGAN — The developer of the "Moorings on the Fox River," who is locked in a struggle with the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., will not know whether or not he can proceed with his project until March 27. It was so decreed by Lake County Circuit Court judge William D. Block at a hearing Tuesday in Waukegan, after he listened to arguments presented by a battery of attorneys representing the district, the village of Fox River Valley Gardens and Allen Presman, the developer. It was an all-day event, the condemnation proceedings lasting for nine hours. The Lake County Forest Preserve board voted 18-5 in favor of purchasing the 250-acre parcel of land known as Cashmore property along the Fox River in Cuba Twp. in October of 1990.

Plan approved

LINDENHURST—The board of trustees gave their approval to the Millburn Farms and Millburn Braes projects, Feb. 25. The board voted to accept the project and adopt an ordinance approving the preliminary Planned Urban Development (PUD) plan. Additionally, the 168-tract is being rezoned from E-1 Estate to B-1 Business, to accommodate the construction of single-family homes.

New board room

MUNDELEIN—A mobile-type facility costing approximately $35,000 will be added to the rear of the village hall this summer to serve as the new village board room. The current second-floor meeting room will be converted to offices for an expanding village staff. The new facility will serve until the village hall is enlarged in approximately five years.

Wait for sewer

LAKE VILLA—The village's sewer agreement with Lake County won the approval of the Lake County Regional Plan Commission, Feb. 26. However, the pact will not be considered by the county board until the plan for the Village of Gurnee is submitted. Both villages are seeking to tap into Lake County's Fox Lake Wastewater Treatment Facility. According to Lake Villa Mayor Joyce Frayer, the plan commission "recommended to approve the Lake Villa sewer agreement with the county as it relates the the county framework plan."

Bid accepted

VERNON HILLS—Stevenson High School District 125 officials selected a Palatine construction company to build the 24-classroom wing. Bergen Construction Corporation's $2.15 million bid was the lowest of 16 submitted after bids opened on Feb. 5. Bids ranged from Bergen's $2.15 million up to $2.70 million. James S. Hintz, district business manager, and the architect, Andrew Mendelson of O'Donnell Wicklund Pigozi and Peterson Architects Inc., met with Bergen Construction Corporation to discuss the project. Hintz and the architect also contacted districts where the contractor worked in the past. School officials hope the new addition will accommodate increasing enrollment projections from residential development.

Voters are irate

LIBERTYVILLE—Libertyville voters became irate and voted down a $27.8 million building bond referendum for a 60-plus room high school addition in the Feb. 26 primary. It was the only issue on the ballot in an election where 26 percent of the registered voters went to the polls. "Apparently voters were more irate than we thought," said Jack Martin of I-RATE (Individuals for Responsible and Accountable Tax Equity), which endorsed the referendum. The 1,000-vote margin of defeat was 3,129 to 2,126.

One vote difference

NORTH CHICAGO—First Ward Aldermanic candidate Joseph Glusic is studying his options after the narrowest of defeats in Tuesday's primary. Glusic lost his bid to unseat first ward alderman Sophie Chaprowski, 68-67. Lake County Clerk Linda Hess said the loser is entitled to ask for a recount if it is by less than five percent. Glusic may ask the Lake County States Atty. to look into the matter.

Laser Beam Technique is the most sophisticated treatment available for problems such as warts, fungus and ingrown toenails, certain calluses and neuromas (nerve tumors). It replaces the surgical scalpel with a concentrated beam of light that penetrates the troubled area.

Advanced Surgi-Care Technique has been proven effective for treating bunions, hammertoes, corns, calluses and heel spurs. This office procedure minimizes pain and speeds recovery. No pins, casts or hospitalization are necessary.

Call Today For Your Free Foot Consultation.

The first step is our no-cost examination.

Bring this coupon with you to your first appointment and there will be no charge for your first examination (excluding X-rays). If surgery is required, Advanced Podiatry Group will provide the following fee arrangement:

1. For those patients with medical insurance, the entire deductible will be waived.
2. If the patient belongs to an HMO or has no insurance, either a 50% surgical cost reduction will be granted, or a special fee arrangement will be made on an individual basis.

Painter

Painter said. "I think in junior college it's a lot harder to qualify than in (NCAA) Division II and Division III. There are a lot of kids don't have the grades, and anybody can get into JC. To come out of our region is pretty good. I didn't expect to be an All-American — I just wanted to win some matches."

Painter became the seventh wrestler to qualify for the nationals during Pasiewicz's stint at CLC.

Pasiewicz concurred with Painter about the rigors of Region 4, which includes Lincoln College, the NJCAA team champion two of the last three years.

"We have a real tough region," Pasiewicz said. "There were 17 All-Americans in the region this year. Lincoln has been dominant at least the last five years."

Pasiewicz said CLC wrestlers must be over-achievers.

"There are no dorms, and we're out away from everything. We have some financial aid, but it's not near what some private schools have. Kids come in here, and they're basically on their own."

Although Painter wrestled in the 167 class at the national level, he began the 1990-91 season at 150. He then eased through 158 and on to 167, where his record was 10-3.

"I think I'm quicker than a lot of 167-pounders," Painter said. "They try to muscle us with upper body strength."

"I'm going to do a lot of lifting and bulk up," Painter said. "Maybe I'll go up another weight class. Must guys like to go down, but I want to bulk up."

A technicality stopped Painter's high school career. After he'd won his regional, it was determined that he'd wrestled too many regular-season matches and his was disqualified from further competition.

Despite that disappointment, Painter went on to take second place in both the free-style and Greco-Roman competition at the Prairie State Games and qualify for the Illinois Wrestling Federation championships. He's also qualified as an IWB representative to compete in Mexico.

Corsairs top Grant, face Waukegan in 2nd round

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

Carmel lent credibility to the Waukegan sectional complex seedings with a 76-39 first-round victory over visiting Grant Tuesday night.

The Corsairs, seeded fifth, broke to a 9-0 lead, sputtered a little in the second quarter and then spurted away from the 12th-seeded Bulldogs.

Carmel will now visit fourth-seeded Waukegan Friday night. Other second-round match-ups will include Mundelein at Stevenson, North Chicago at Warren, and Lake Forest at Libertyville.

In other Waukegan sectional complex action

Tuesday night, Waukegan downed Antioch, 56-38; Stevenson beat Grayslake, 107-70; Warren topped Lake Zurich, 100-43; Mundelein defeated Deerfield, 75-58; Libertyville eliminated Zion Benton, 65-47; Lake Forest upended Round Lake, 68-64; and North Chicago beat Highland Park, 59-48.

For the Corsairs, 13 players made their marks in the scorebook, with Chris Mohr's 16 points leading the way. Ed Haravon scored 14 points off the bench.

Carmel (14-11) led, 18-10, at the first stop and 34-22 at the half. The Corsairs put it away with a 22-9 third-quarter surge.

"I thought we came out and established just what we wanted to right away," Carmel coach Scott Rosberg said. "In the second quarter, we had a real let-down — we let them cut it to 10. In the third quarter, we came out and re-established ourselves. In the third and fourth quarters, we took care of business."

The Bulldogs (13-13) were paced by Rich Twarowski's game-high 22 points.

Grant coach Tom Maple it was an "indication the teams were seeded correctly," but that the format created extreme disparities. He said he would favor a design that put the No. 1 seed up against No. 8 and No. 9 against No. 16.

IF THE SHOE FITS... ...BUT IF NOT, YOU SHOULD HAVE SHOPPED AT HOME!

We all know that exchanges can be a hassle, especially if you have to go out of town to make them.

Smart Shoppers know they save time,
money and avoid inconvenience,
when they shop with local merchants.

And if you happen to bring home something that doesn't fit, it will be much easier to exchange right here at home.

Here's one idea that always "fits" -
SHOP AT HOME!
